India put on priority watch list for IP rights

The US on Tuesday once again placed India on its 'priority watch list', stating that New Delhi remains one of the world's most challenging major economies for protection and enforcement of intellectual property rights. The report has listed eight countries in its 'priority watch list' including China, Indonesia, Russia, Argentina and Venezuela

Registration fee for commercial vehicles to go up

AKNISREE KARTHIK @ Bengaluru

REGISTRATION fee for commercial vehicles priced within Rs 10 lakh and for those used in the construction sector will go up from May 1.

The state government is implementing the Karnataka Motor Vehicle Taxation (Amendment) Act on May 1, despite opposition from commercial vehicle operators. The lifetime tax for cabs that cost less than Rs 10 lakh will be 5% of the cost of the vehicle. Till now, lifetime taxes were not imposed on commercial vehicles (taxis) that cost less than Rs 10 lakh at one go, but were instead collected quarterly at the rate of Rs 100 per seat for a four-seater vehicle.

Bhagwat comes calling

After a day of marathon meetings, Prime Minister Narendra Modi received a rare guest at home — RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat. Coming as the meeting did after Modi chaired two meetings on the response to the Pahalgam carnage, it sparked speculation about the RSS's stance on the possible kinetic action

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday gave the security forces full operational freedom to to decide the mode, targets and timing of their decisive action against the terror outfits responsible for the Pahalgam brutality against tourists and also smash their ecosystem.

The directive came at a marathon meeting at his residence with defence minister Rajnath Singh, the chiefs of the armed forces and National Security Advisor Ajit Doval. Modi expressed complete confidence in the professional abilities of the armed forces. Chief of Defence Staff General Anil Chauhan was part of the meeting.

Sources said the PM, after listening to inputs from the top officers, underscored the national resolve to deal a crushing blow to terrorism.

Parallelly, Union home secretary Govind Mohan held a high-level meeting with chiefs of Central Armed Police Forces and two other central security agencies. Among those who attended the meeting were the Directors General of Border Security Force Daljit Singh Chaudhary, National Security Guard Brighu Srinivasan and Assam Rifles Lt Gen Vikas Lakhera, sources said, adding that Additional Director General of the Sashastra Seema Bal Anupama Nilekar Chandra was present.

TERROR in KASHMIR

After the meeting with the defence leadership, Modi also met with Union home minister Amit Shah.

By earlier announcing that the security forces would go the ends of the earth to bring the perpetrators of the Pahalgam massacre to justice, adding that the terrorists would be subjected to punishment beyond their imagination, the PM set the bar very high for kinetic action.

Sources suggest that the final contours of the response may be decided during the Cabinet Committee on Security (CCS) meeting, scheduled for Wednesday following a meeting of the Union Cabinet. The buzz is the government is preparing for a multi-pronged offensive against terror — diplomatically and, if required, militarily — including possible strikes on terror camps in the days ahead.

Using Pegasus for security not wrong, says SC

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

THE government possessing Pegasus spyware for security purposes is not wrong, the Supreme Court said on Tuesday. However, allegations of it being used against private individuals can be looked at, it added.

"What's wrong if a country is using spyware? To have spyware is not wrong… against whom you are using it is the question. You can't sacrifice the security of the nation," a bench of justices Surya Kant and N Kotiswar Singh said.

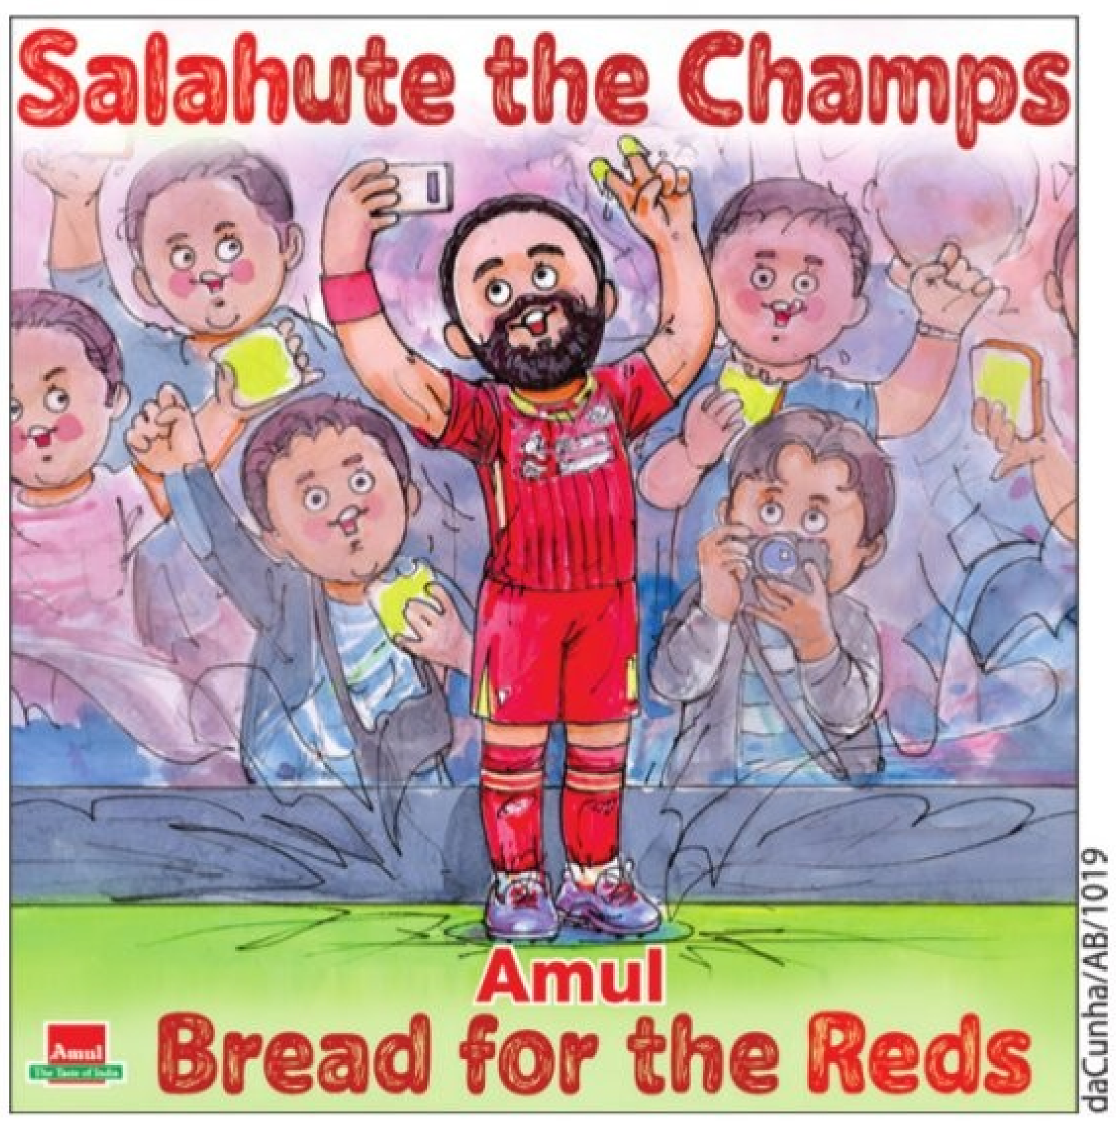
The bench said that a technical committee's report on the issue can't be made public in view of security. However, affected individuals can be informed, it added.

SC's remarks came while hearing a batch of pleas seeking a detailed probe into allegations against the government over the use of Israeli software Pegasus to snoop on activists, journalists, and others. The petitioners said surveillance using military-grade spyware is a violation of privacy.

Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, representing the Centre, said, "Terrorists can't claim privacy rights."

The bench said civil individuals, who have the right to privacy, will be protected under the Constitution.

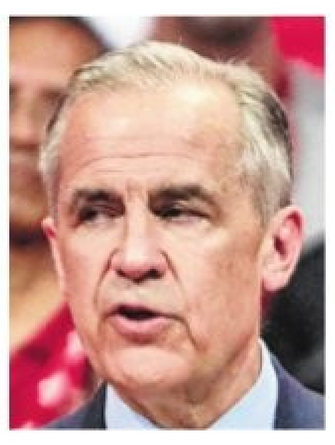
Senior advocate Kapil Sibal, appearing for a petitioner, said he wanted to place on record a judgment of a US court that said India was among the affected countries. The bench allowed this and posted the matter to July 30.



PM Modi congratulates Carney, seeks reset in ties

JAYANTH JACOB @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday congratulated Canadian prime minister Mark Carney on his Liberal Party's stunning victory in the federal elections, expressing hope for a reset in India-Canada relations after years of strain under former PM Justin Trudeau's leadership.



Notably, Khalistan sympathiser Jagmeet Singh failed to retain his seat and resigned as leader of the New Democratic Party (NDP) after the party's disastrous showing with seat count plummeting from 24 to 7.

Congratulating Carney and the Liberal Party, Modi said: "I look forward to working with you to strengthen our partnership and unlock greater opportunities for our people. India and Canada are bound by shared democratic values, a steadfast commitment to the rule of law, and vibrant people-to-people ties."

Modi's message indicates a hopeful turn in India-Canada relations, which have faced multiple diplomatic flashpoints under ex-PM Trudeau's watch.

Relief for bike taxis, HC extends deadline for ban

Court gives time till June 15 to aggregators to cease bike taxi ops

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION
TAXI

THE Karnataka High Court on Tuesday extended the deadline for taxi aggregators to cease all their bike taxi operations by another six weeks till June 15.

Justice B M Shyam Prasad passed the order after hearing the applications filed by the taxi aggregators seeking an extension of time.

On April 2, the high court granted six weeks to Ola, Uber and Rapido to cease all their operations as aggregators of bike taxis. After six weeks, the state government had to ensure that all bike taxi operations be stopped, the court said, noting that unless the state government notified the relevant guidelines under Section 93 of the Motor Vehicles Act, 1988, and the rules thereunder, the petitioners cannot operate as aggregators offering bike taxi services.

The counsel for one of the taxi aggregators submitted that after the order was passed by the court on April 2, the chief secretary convened a meeting, where details of the policy in other states were made available. There is a general expectation that the request would be considered if there could be an extension of another six weeks. Another counsel for another petitioner submitted that the court may consider that a number of persons are currently running bike taxis and they require more time to make alternative arrangements, he pleaded.

Advocate General K Shashi Kiran Shetty, however, opposed both those grounds, emphasising that a meeting may be conveyed, but the expectation of a particular decision may not be justified. After hearing this, the court extended the time, saying that there should be no precipitation and a reasonable opportunity is given to all.

BBMP administration will go for a toss: Experts

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

URBAN experts and citizen activists have expressed concern over the government's decision to appoint senior IAS officer and Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) Managing Director Maheshwar Rao as in-charge chief commissioner of Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP). They said not having a full-time commissioner for the BBMP, which has 225 wards, will impact the daily administration of the corporation.

Activists expressed apprehension that important issues like garbage disposal, potholes, and stormwater drainage work will be severely hit. This apart, as the BBMP will cease paving the way for Greater Bengaluru Authority, the task of delimitation, adding new areas, and OBC reservation will all be affected.

Former commissioner of the municipality, K Jairaj, said the BBMP covers a huge area and needs a full-time chief commissioner for administration with coordination from all the zonal commissioners. "Maheshwar Rao is a capable person to head both Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) and BBMP, but he has to be given one independent charge. The government is also aware of this and his appointment to the BBMP on an immediate basis is an administrative decision. I am sure that the government will appoint another officer either for BMRCL or to head the BBMP," he added.

Kathyayini Chamraj, executive trustee, CIVIC, which addresses city-based administration loopholes, stated that the BBMP will cease shortly and new wards will have to be added. Also, a reservation list based on OBC has to be prepared, and this will be a herculean task for the BBMP in-charge commissioner.

"Daily administration involves monitoring road development works, drain works, etc. There are also special projects, garbage management, tax collection and flood management during rain. All these can't be handled effectively with an in-charge chief commissioner," she pointed out.

Going a step further in dissecting the ongoing development, Sandeep Anirudhan, convenor, Citizens' Agenda for Bengaluru, said even during normal times, and with a full-time chief commissioner, the BBMP is so "poorly managed". And right now, the government plans to split the city into multiple corporations. This will involve a complex process encompassing legal, administrative and infrastructure changes.

"Key activities include defining new boundaries, establishing new governance structures, redistributing city resources and ensuring seamless transition of services for residents. At such a critical juncture when more attention is required, how could the government transfer the chief commissioner without a full-time replacement? This shows how little the state government cares about the city," said Anirudhan.

BJP, NETIZENS SLAM GOVT

Bengaluru: The appointment of BMRCL Managing Director Maheshwar Rao as in-charge BBMP chief commissioner has drawn flak from many quarters. The BJP and netizens have slammed the state government for putting just one person in-charge of two important posts. BJP leader and Bangalore Central MP PC Mohan said, "BMRCL part time, BBMP part time, but corruption full time." Netizens trolled the government on social media. "BMRCL is already struggling with so many delays on all the ongoing lines, overcrowding and lack of trains in the existing lines. Now, the same commissioner is going to be in charge of BBMP. What a master stroke for the city," Nagarjuna Reddy posted on X. Another user, Sudhir posted: "Moonlighting Jobs in Bengaluru done by Superhumans (sic)." ENS

Citizens fight to save 368 trees at Cantt, start petition

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

WITHIN 24 hours, 2,835 people signed a petition against the railway department's request to cut 368 trees for a commercial project at Cantonment. The campaign -- Stop Butchery of 368 Mature Trees at Cantonment Railway Station -- was initiated by Heritage Beku, a citizens group, on Change.org on Monday. The target is to reach 5,000 signatures and hand over the same to the BBMP forest wing, which has called for objections and suggestions in this regard.

Talking about the petition, urban conservationist Vijay Nishanth said the Biodiversity Management Committee will also conduct spot visits to the place. "Some of the portions have already been concretised at Cantonment Railway Station in Vasanth Nagar. Now, we will push for a physical consultation regarding the objections call from Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) for tree cutting. Our primary demand is that the railway department should not disturb the tree canopy and biodiversity," said Nishanth.

Greens are angry at the railway department as it had sent a requisition letter to the BBMP forest division seeking permission stating that it wants to remove trees to build a commercial project.

"When they knew a commercial project here requires felling 368 trees, including old-growth ones, they should have altered the plan or just dropped it. It's good that we have a tree committee in the BBMP which mandates every household, industry, organisation to seek permission and the committee follows procedures including public consultation, else the trees would have been axed just like that," said an activist.

On Friday, the BBMP forest wing published a notification calling for objections, suggestions and comments from the public regarding the removal of trees at Vasanth Nagar Railway Colony in Cantonment. Following the notification, there has been resentment among greens over the railway department's action.

Odisha content creator uses ChatGPT to bargain auto fare in city

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THOSE who have travelled in autorickshaws in Bengaluru would have learnt the art of bargaining with auto drivers, who generally quote very high fares even for short distances. But for those who are new to Bengaluru, who don't know Kannada and are new to bargaining, it's an uphill task.

A tech enthusiast from the city has demonstrated how artificial intelligence can be of great help in bargaining with auto drivers in their local language Kannada. Content creator Sajan Mahto from Odisha's Rourkela posted a short video on his Instagram page (sajanmaho.ai) on Saturday on how to use AI for bargaining with auto drivers. Since then, the video has gone viral.

In the video, Sajan demonstrates how he used AI to negotiate an autofare of Rs 200 to Rs 120. Sajan opens ChatGPT's voice assistant and commands it to talk to the auto-driver to lower the quoted fare of Rs 200 to Rs 100. He also tells AI to talk to the driver nicely just like how an elder brother would do. He also informs AI to bargain by mentioning that he is a student and takes the same route every day.

The AI assistant, which quickly processes the inputs, initiates the conversation with the auto driver with a warm greeting, "Anna namaskara". The AI assistant goes on to explain that Sajan is a student and he travels on the same route and bargains with the driver to cut down the fare.

In an Instagram reel, tech enthusiast Sajan Mahto demonstrates how to bargain with auto drivers using AI

After the bargains, in which the AI asks the driver to consider Sajan as a regular customer, the driver agrees for the ride at Rs 120. At the end, the AI tool thanks the auto driver for adjusting and that Rs 120 was fine.

"ChatGPT Vs Autowala. Use ChatGPT for language translation FREE!! This is an attempt to educate how one can use CHATGPT in day today life. To harm any sentiments regarding any emotions is not intended. The sole purpose is education only," Sajan posted on his Insta page.

He went on to add a disclaimer that the act performed was not by a real auto driver and that he made the video only for educational purposes and not to offend anyone.

6,174 smart meters in operation in Bescom limits

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

THE energy department has received 39,599 applications for smart meters. Each smart meter costs Rs 4,998. In all, 6,174 smart meters have been activated (till April 28). A senior Bescom official said distribution of single-phase smart meters started on February 15 following Karnataka Electricity Regulatory Commission's (KERC) order.

According to Bescom, 15,569 smart meters have been purchased by consumers and work is on to install 13,871 of them. Software link has been provided for 6,289 meters. In all, 65 applications have been rejected and power supply to 115 meters has been stopped due to non-payment of bills.

The official said smart meters are being provided to those who have applied for new and those having temporary connections in Bescom limits only due to logistical and technical issues. Once the software is streamlined, smart meters will be provided to consumers across the state.

Bescom officials admitted that not many consumers are applying for smart meters because of financial constraints and stringent regulations introduced by the state government such as making occupancy certificates mandatory for new power connections. The process of operating smart meters is slow because the main server and meter software have to be linked.

PETER VIDAL

30th April: Some people love Wednesdays, others hate them. Personally I'm quite fond of them, perhaps because their ancient planetary ruler is Mercury, the planet of wit and wisdom. There was a time when today was considered the perfect moment to make lasting commitments. So, now could be the time to sign on the dotted line!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The general picture is looking somewhat emotional, but decidedly ambitious. It seems that most of your hopes may be vested in family members, but don't project expectations on to people who can never live up to them. You might think you're entitled to make demands on other people, but they're unlikely to agree.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
It is very definitely a day for a charming chat and good communication, although whether you will ever be able to make a final decision is debatable. Indeed, you may change your mind whenever you want, whatever partners say. They have to recognise that your needs and desires are not what they were.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Financial matters may be a cause of some concern, but whether you are due to make a sensible move or tip some money into a passing black hole is a rather sensitive point. I'd say that the former is more likely than the latter, just as long as you avoid impulsive promises.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
The Moon's relationship with your sign is broadly helpful, and you stand to win on two counts because of its role as your planetary ruler. If you're planning anything big on the emotional front, you can afford to be confident about the outcome.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
There is one more unexpected development down the road. If you have now worked out that you must make a complete break with old emotional chains, you are heading for a very pleasant surprise. Somebody is due to be deeply impressed by you indeed.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Mercury shifts nervously today, a crucial turn of events which means that one set of plans or ideas may soon be put on the back burner, perhaps until about three weeks' time. Impatience will be your biggest failing, but it is easily overcome if you stop and think.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
A mystery continues, and there is almost no chance of arriving at a solution soon. In a sense, it doesn't matter, for over the next few weeks you will have the chance to be recognised and praised for your very public actions. All credit is due to you for lending your support when it mattered.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Strong travel stars may be extended into dreams of life abroad. If you ever fancied spinning out your days on a tropical beach, now is the time to set the wheels in motion. Also, if you spot an argument on the horizon, familiarise yourself with your rights.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
All eyes are on that mischievous and unreliable planet Mercury, which after promising so much, is about to go back on its word. You'll just have to accept that you might have to change your mind, and that's not exactly something you're normally happy to do.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
If all goes according to plan, you'll receive support from friends and partners, but not in the ways that you expected. You may be offered some rather tricky advice and your first inclination could be to reject it. However, you may feel differently once you've received the relevant reassurance.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Many are the times that you have been misjudged and under-estimated. When it comes to the crunch you really are more responsible at work than people often realise. For example, at the moment you are concerned about a partner's position, and your feelings will show in your actions.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Relax and enjoy yourself, and don't worry too much if responsibilities are building up. You've been through enough in the past and now should be due for some time-off. And, if you want to bury your head in the sand, why not? After all, everybody needs a break.

Work begins for complex at Command Hospital

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FOUNDATION stone was laid for the construction of a new modern multi-storied hospital complex at Command Hospital Air Force Bengaluru here on Tuesday. Air Marshal Nagesh Kapoor, Air Officer Commanding-in-Chief (AOC-in-C), Training Command, unveiled the foundation stone in the presence of Air Marshal, Director General Medical Services (Air), Sandeep Thareja from the Air HQ.

The present structure of the Command Hospital is 157 years old and can handle an OPD of nearly 3 lakh patients, with 21,000 admissions yearly. According to a press release, with the increasing workload, along with the need to incorporate rapid advancements in healthcare technology, the hospital demands a modern infrastructure with adequate scope for expansion in the future.

The project on completion shall be a state-of-the-art 800-bed facility, with 16 modular operation theatres, modern ICUs, high-end diagnostic services including advanced imaging and laboratory facilities with a pneumatic chute system. Intelligent design components of the hospital, like OPDs on lower floors, spacious lifts and escalators, will offer convenient access for patients, including the differently-abled. Digitisation and an Integrated Hospital Information System will reduce patient wait times.

The facility will adhere to GRIHA 3-star norms, incorporating rainwater harvesting systems, solar power generation of one megawatt capacity and a high capacity effluent treatment plant contributing towards a sustainable and environment friendly ecosystem, the release added.

LORRY CRUSHES 48-YR-OLD POURAKARMIKA TO DEATH

Kin of the deceased seeks compensation from BBMP; driver escapes scene

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A 48-year-old pourakarmika was killed on the spot after she was run over by a tipper lorry in Vijayanagar traffic police limits on Tuesday morning. The incident happened around 6.25 am when she was crossing the Chord Road under the Shivanagar flyover at Dhobi Ghat junction to go to the BBMP ward office to mark her biometric attendance. Over 150 pourakarmikas who had gathered at the spot demanded proper compensation for her children.

The deceased, Sarojamma, was a resident of Peenya. Reportedly, soon after the signal turned green, the truck driver immediately accelerated without noticing the woman and hit her. The driver escaped from the spot after abandoning the lorry.

The body was shifted to the Victoria Hospital mortuary for postmortem. "On May 1, she would have received the regularisation of service certificate at Palace Grounds. She was among the 3,600 pourakarmikas whose job was to regularised. She would have then become a BBMP employee. Unfortunately, she is no more. Her children should be properly compensated. We request that the government should consider giving a job to one of her sons. She was working as a pourakarmika for the last two decades," pourakarmika supervisor Mahesh said.

The victim's daughter, Gowri, said she got to know about the accident around 6.30 am. "I stay in Banashankari and I am a housewife. My mother was staying with my elder brother. I do not have my father. I request some kind of help from the BBMP during this troubled time," she added. The Vijayanagar traffic police have registered a case.

DG&IGP's tenure extended by 21 days, will be in office till May 21

Bengaluru: Director General and Inspector General of Police (DG&IGP) Alok Mohan, who was set to retire on Tuesday, will continue in office for 21 more days. The state government issued an order on Tuesday extending his tenure until May 21. Mohan belongs to the 1987-batch of the Indian Police Service (IPS). He was appointed in-charge DG&IGP in May 2023 after his predecessor Praveen Sood was appointed director of the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI). Mohan's appointment was regularised on August 5, 2023. While the Supreme Court issued directions on the appointment and fixed two-year tenure for the Director General of Police (DGP) in the Prakash Singh judgment of 2006, the Karnataka Police Act, amended in 2012, states that the DG&IGP "so appointed shall have a tenure of not less than two years, subject to superannuation". 2 women targetting locked houses held, valuables worth ₹11L seized

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

TWO women, including an autorickshaw driver, were apprehended by the Bommanahalli police in connection with a series of house thefts.

Both the accused were active for the past two years. The auto driver would go around looking for locked houses. After selecting the house, she would partner with her associate and commit thefts. Valuables worth over Rs 11 lakh were recovered from the duo, the police said.

Both the accused -- Shabrin Taj, 38, and her relative Neelam, 22, the auto driver -- stay at DJ Halli. "The accused committed thefts in Bommanahalli and MICO Layout police limits. They were selling the stolen gold ornaments to jewellery shops in DJ Halli and Tannery Road. Around 130 gm of gold ornaments have been recovered from the receivers. Both the women were remanded in judicial custody. The auto that was being used in the crime has also been recovered," said an officer.

The incident came to light after a victim filed a complaint at Bommanahalli police station, a day after the theft happened at their house in Garvebhavipalya. On April 2, the two were detained near the Adugodi traffic signal. They were taken to police custody for nine days. Based on their information, notices were served to jewellery shop owners to return the gold ornaments which the accused had sold to them.

CM's GESTURE DEEPLY DEMORALISING: COPS

RAKSHITH GOWDA @Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah making a slap-like gesture on a senior police officer during a Congress rally in Belagavi on Monday has certainly upset the men in khaki. Senior police officers have condemned the action by none other than the head of the government. They said that the incident has "deeply demoralised" police personnel and "humiliated not just one officer but the entire police force".

A senior officer told The New Indian Express that the act by CM Siddaramaiah has demoralised police personnel, as a senior officer of the rank of Additional SP on duty was insulted in front of his staff and thousands of people. "When police officers are not treated with dignity, it discourages honest and efficient policing. In the future, some politicians may take similar actions, following the CM's example. The Chief Minister may have raised his hand in a moment of anger, but things could get worse tomorrow," the senior office said, adding that political leaders should set a good example for society.

A DIG-rank officer said that although the CM'a action was unacceptable, no case or disciplinary action could be taken by the police department, as it involved no physical assault.

A Superintendent of Police rank officer said that the CM's reaction sends a damaging message to both the public and the police force. "After such an incident, the affected officer may undergo mental distress. What would his children and family think?" he asked. He also noted that there have been instances where politicians have used foul language or acted out in the heat of the moment, but such behaviour sets a poor example and undermines police dignity. "If the CM felt that there was a security lapse, he could have ordered for an inquiry. His gesture in a public event attended by thousands was uncalled for," the officer added.

'Spur of the moment': Laxmi slams BJP workers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

ON the commotion which broke out during a Congress rally in Belagavi on Monday, Women and Child Development Minister Laxmi Hebbalkar said it was unfair of the BJP activists to storm the Congress rally which was attended by over 25,000 people and create ruckus. While slamming the BJP activists for disrupting the rally, she asked, "Will the BJP leaders keep silent if the Congress activists did the same in a BJP rally? The Congress workers will not remain silent in the future if such incidents continue."

"Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has a large section of supporters across the state. What would happen if his supporters got enraged and stormed into a BJP rally in the future?" She asked while advising the BJP activists to introspect their actions.

Defending Siddaramaiah who came under fire from all quarters for making a slap-like gesture towards a police officer during the rally in Belagavi, she said that the CM always respected the officers and people and never crossed the boundaries. She said it all happened in a spur of the moment but the CM always had concern for all classes of people.

She recalled how BJP leaders humiliated many top Congress leaders, mainly Rahul Gandhi in the Janakrosh Yatra and said the BJP leaders verbally abused Rahul both inside and outside the House on many occasions. Hebbalkar said the Congress leaders did not get provoked as the people had the right to protest in a democracy.

Gruha Lakshmi scheme: Pending installments to be released in May

The three pending installments of Gruha Lakshmi Scheme will be released for the women beneficiaries in Karnataka in May, Women and Child Development Minister Laxmi Hebbalkar has said. Addressing a section of media in Belagavi on Tuesday, Hebbalkar said that the three installments would be credited to the bank accounts of women in three different weeks in May. She said that the government has already sanctioned funds needed to clear the pending installments. The installments are to be paid to the beneficiaries for January, February and March.

PAHALGAM TERROR ATTACK

JDS will support any decision taken by Modi: Gowda

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

CALLING the recent terror attack on tourists in Pahalgam "horrifying and inhumane," former Prime Minister HD Deve Gowda on Tuesday said that he and his party — JDS — will support any decision taken by Prime Minister Narendra Modi to eliminate terrorism.

Addressing the media in Mysuru, the JDS patriarch said that the armed forces have launched a manhunt to identify the terrorists behind the gruesome Pahalgam attack that killed 26 persons. Without giving many details, Gowda hinted that the Union Government will take an appropriate decision on the operations to be carried out in the Valley.

Gowda also lauded Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge for his statement that his party would support the decision taken by the PM. Gowda further said that the leaders of the I.N.D.I.A block also want the terrorists to be identified and eliminated.

Refusing to comment on the recent incident in which Chief Minister Siddaramaiah is seen making a slap-like gesture towards a police officer, Gowda said that he will not speak about the CM, his deputy, and the Congress president. "Though I keep track of political developments, I don't comment on a few issues," Gowda, who is also a Rajya Sabha member, said.

Gowda said that the JDS is a regional party and has an understanding with the BJP. "I want to strengthen the leadership of HD Kumaraswamy and will tour the state," he said, adding that he will also interact with the youth under the leadership of Nikhil Kumaraswamy.

M'luru doc booked for 'anti-India' posts

Mangaluru City police have booked a case against a doctor for allegedly posting anti-India and anti-Hindu statements on social media. The accused Dr Afeefa, a dietician, wrote the controversial posts a few days ago after which the private hospital sacked her from the job. VHP leader Sharan Pumpwell had urged the city police to take strict action against Dr Afeefa. On Tuesday, Mangaluru City Police Commissioner Anupam Agrawal said that a suo moto case was booked against the accused under Section 353 of the BNS. Her mobile phone has also been seized.

6 BJP WOMEN WORKERS BOOKED, LATER FREED

Belagavi: Six BJP women workers were arrested for interrupting CM's speech by displaying black flags and raising slogans against him during a Congress gathering in Belagavi on Monday. Angry with the police not preventing the protesters from entering the venue, the CM had made a gesture of slapping Dharwad Additional Superintendent of Police Narayan Baramani. The BJP workers — Shilpa Kekare, Pavitra Hiremath, Reshma Baramooche, Manjula Hannikeri, Annapoorna Haval and Sumitra Jaalagar — were booked under Sections 189(1)(C) and 352 of the BNS. The police had swiftly detained the women at the venue and took them for a medical examination. When doctors at the Vantamuri PHC declined to conduct the tests, the accused were taken to the district hospital for evaluation. Soon after the case was registered, BJP workers filed for bail. The 5th JMFC court in Belagavi, presided over by Judge Sporsha D'Souza, granted them conditional bail. The BJP workers were represented by advocates Vinod Kumar Patil and Dhanyakumar Patil.

Dr G seeks report on security lapse

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A DAY after Chief Minister Siddaramaiah faced flak for shouting at a senior police officer during a Congress rally in Belagavi, Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara on Tuesday said that he has directed the Additional Director General of Police (Law and Order) to check if there was any security lapse at the event and submit a report.

The CM shouted at the officer and raised his hand after a few BJP members raised black flags when he was speaking at a Congress rally to protest against the Union Government.

"I do not have the full information about the incident. BJP Women's Wing members entered the venue by wearing Congress shawls. They showed black flags when the CM was speaking. I have directed the ADGP (L&O) to check if there was any lapse from the department and give a report," Dr Parameshwara said when asked about criticism over the CM's action. On the Opposition BJP leaders asking the CM to apologise for his remarks that there was no need for a war with Pakistan, the Home Minister said the CM has already clarified that if need be they should not hesitate to go to war.

During the all-party leaders meeting in New Delhi, senior Congress leaders have already clarified the party's stand and it is not correct for all the leaders to talk about the Pahalgam terror attack, he said. This is a national security issue and they will cooperate with the Central government, he said.

BJP slams Congress

Leader of Opposition in the Assembly R Ashoka slammed the Congress for insulting Prime Minister Narendra Modi by defacing his image and putting it on social media.

Ashoka told reporters that defacing the PM's image is a crime. The BJP leader accused Congress leaders of indirectly supporting Pakistan. Siddaramaiah has become a hero in Pakistan and if he contests an election in Lahore, he could win by a margin of one lakh votes, the BJP leader said, and added that he might even receive a civilian award from Pakistan in the future.

On the CM shouting at the police officer in Belagavi, the BJP leader said it was an insult to the entire police department. The CM himself has sent a message that anyone can attack the police, Ashoka said.

1,000 village accountants appointed without bribe of single rupee: Byre Gowda

Laptops were distributed to 4,000 village administration officers, in Bengaluru on Tuesday | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah symbolically gave recruitment letters to newly appointed 1,000 village accountants on Tuesday. As many as 6.3 lakh people had applied for the posts and Revenue Minister Krishna Byre Gowda commented that probably no other job would have got so many applications. "We had called for and conducted exams through the Karnataka Examination Authority. The new VAs have been recruited without any middlemen," he said.

He claimed that the exams were conducted with complete transparency and no recommendation was entertained. It was done in such a way that the answer scripts could not be changed after the exam was conducted. "Not a single rupee was paid as bribe," he said.

The programme was conducted at Vidhana Soudha to ensure that the newly recruited VAs should know the purpose of Vidhana Soudha and work for the people, he said.

On the occasion, the CM also distributed laptops to village administration officers. Byregowda said that every day, VAs run to taluk offices either to give or collect letters. Much of their time was spent on this task, not allowing them to do productive work. The postal system at the department is 200 years old which has no meaning now. "We have given them laptops to reduce their work. This financial year, all VAs will get laptops," he said.

Selected based on merit, reservation: Siddaramaiah

Addressing the newly recruited village accountants, Chief Minister Siddaramaiah said elected representatives and government employees exist only for people. "We are elected by the people, while you are appointed by the government. Both of us have to work for the people. Your appointments were done without any middlemen and corruption. You have been selected based on your merit and reservation," he said. The state has 9,834 sanctioned VA posts, of which around 8,000 are working. With the recruitment of 1,000 VAs, there will be a vacancy of over 800 posts. We have approved the appointment of 500 more," he said.

Ban ProtonMail, block offending URLs immediately: HC to Centre

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Tuesday directed the Union Government to block the Switzerland-based ProtonMail in India and to take steps for immediate blocking of the offending Uniform Resource Locator (URLs) of Protonmail till action is taken to block the service. Justice M Nagaprasanna pronounced the operative portion of the order, allowing a petition by M Moser Design Associates India, Bengaluru. The full order is yet to be released.

The petitioner moved the high court seeking directions to the Centre to act against Proton AG, pointing out that Proton's servers are located outside India, and it is claiming that it is not bound by Indian laws.

While contending that Proton's email service allows users to select India as their location, which gives a false impression that the company is operating from within the country, the petitioner stated that it filed a police complaint in November 2024. It alleged that some unknown persons are misusing Proton Mail to target the company's female employees by sending obscene, abusive and derogatory emails containing AI-generated deep-fake images and explicit content. But not much progress has been made on the police complaint. The police have not utilised the legal assistance agreements and arrangements between India and Switzerland to initiate action against Proton, based on the First Information Report, the petitioner alleged.

"Mandamus issued to respondents- Ministry of Home Affairs, Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (Meity) and Ministry of Communications to initiate proceedings in terms of Section 69A of the Information Technology Act 2000 read with Rule 10 of the IT Procedure and Safeguards of Blocking of Access to Information by Public Access Rules, 2009 to block ProtonMail bearing in mind the observations made in the order. Till such proceedings are taken up and concluded by the Government of India, the offending Uniform Resource Locators (URLs) that are indicated in the petitions should be blocked forthwith," the court said.

The petitioner's counsel submitted that at the instance of Tamil Nadu police, the Union IT Ministry has already sought to block ProtonMail. The court's attention was also drawn to a decision of the Delhi High Court in the case of Runa Devi and connected matters which was disposed of on October 23, 2024. In that case, directions were given to the Delhi police as well as the Ministry of Home Affairs to look into the e-mail address/service used, which is allegedly provided by Proton as it is stated to have been banned.

Pointing out that there is a mutual agreement of assistance between India and Switzerland and a letter rogatory can be issued by a competent criminal court on the request made by the investigating officer to seek information from another country, the union government contended that it will comply with the directions if same are issued by the court under the relevant rules to ban the offending e-mail service.

TN to remove 'Colony' word from govt records

CM says move aims to tackle discrimination

T MURUGANANDHAM @ Chennai

TAMIL Nadu Chief Minister MK Stalin on Tuesday announced that the term 'colony', long associated with untouchability and caste-based discrimination, would be removed from government records and public usage.

Making the announcement in the Assembly, while replying to the demands for grants for the police department, the CM said the word had historically been used as a euphemism to label and degrade indigenous and marginalised communities.

Official sources said a detailed order would be issued shortly to outline the procedure for implementing the directive across departments and local bodies.

The move echoes a similar order issued nearly five decades ago. On October 3, 1978, to mark the birth centenary of social reformer Periyar EV Ramasamy, the government led by the then CM, MG Ramachandran, passed a GO to remove caste names from streets. The order directed all municipalities, town panchayats, and village panchayats to adopt resolutions to that effect. However, enforcement has remained patchy over the years.

Welcoming the decision, Viduthalai Chiruthaigal Katchi (VCK) general secretary and MP D Ravikumar said the removal of the term 'colony' had been a long-standing demand of the party. "A new GO should also be issued to remove caste references from educational institutions and hotels," he said.

VCK also demands that the suffix "-n" (often used in caste contexts) in community names be replaced with the respectful "-r," reflecting dignity and equality, Ravikumar said.

Retired IAS officer Christudoss Gandhi recommended replacing the term 'colony' with 'kudiyiruppu' or 'oor', which denote residential areas in Tamil. "I do not agree with identifying Dalits as Pattiyal Inam, Thaazhthappattor, or Tribals as Malaivaasi," he said, adding, "Instead, Scheduled Castes should be referred to as 'Saandror', and Scheduled Tribes as 'Aandror', which carry dignity and respect."

K'taka proposes to hike liquor prices again

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

JUST days after the Karnataka government increased diesel tax, power tariff and milk prices, it has now decided to hike prices of liquor. Though the announcement was made by CM Siddaramaiah in the budget, the notification was issued late on Tuesday evening by the excise department to increase prices of economical category liquor by Rs 10-15 per quarter and beer by 10%.

An excise department official said the liquor prices have been proposed to be increased, keeping in mind excise collections for the state and the CM setting a target of Rs 40,000 crore for the excise department. The proposal is also to price liquor competitively in comparison with neighbouring states.

The excise department issued the notification on Tuesday, giving citizens seven days to file their objections. "As per the notification, prices of brandy, whisky, gin, rum and other such liquors, not including beer, toddy, wine and fenny, under the economic distillery category have been proposed to be hiked by Rs 10-15 per quarter and in case of the mid-segment, the rates have also been hiked considerably. However, the high end liquor rates have not been touched. Beer rate has been proposed to be hiked by 10% across all segments," an official said. This is being done as the borders are porous and it was found that the sale of economical liquor was higher in border areas. "Neighbouring states are not allowing liquor from Karnataka to be sold, but are keen on allowing bottles moving from their states to Karnataka. To be on par with other states the price hike has been proposed. It is also a good source of revenue for the government," he added.

THE arrested are Sachin T, Devadas, Manjunath, Saideep, Nitesh Kumar, Dheekshith Kumar, Sandeep, Vivian Alvares, Sridatta, Rahul, Pradeep Kumar, Manish Shetty, Dhanush, Dheekshith and Kishore Kumar. Though the incident took place at 3 pm on Sunday, Mangaluru Rural police initially did not suspect foul play as there were no visible injuries and registered a case of unnatural death.

However, the autopsy revealed internal bleeding and shock resulting from multiple blows to the back and private parts. Mangaluru Police Commissioner Anupam Agrawal said that during the cricket match near the temple ground, a fight broke out between the victim and Sachin, who is an autorickshaw driver. Later, the mob joined Sachin and rained blows on him. They also kicked him and attacked him with sticks. Although some in the crowd watching the match attempted to intervene, the mob continued to assault him, which ultimately led to his death.

However, the commissioner said that the motive is still not clear and investigation is on.

Congress speaking language of Pakistan, says Kishan

HYDERABAD: Union Coal & Mines Minister and state BJP president G Kishan Reddy on Tuesday alleged that while the entire country is condemning the Pahalgam terror attack, the Congress was speaking the language of Pakistan. Slamming the Congress leaders for "criticising and demeaning Prime Minister Narendra Modi", he said, "The Congress lacks ethics and values. Its leaders are speaking the language of Pakistan." "There is no difference in comments made by Pakistan ministers and that of Congress leaders. There is a friendship between the Grand Old Party and Pakistan, as the latter has been retweeting the messages of Congress leaders," he added. Stating that the Modi government has adopted a "zero tolerance policy" on terrorism, he alleged that a few forces in the country were trying to disturb the peace.

₹50 K tax on vehicles priced below ₹10 L

"SO every commercial vehicle priced within Rs 10 lakh annually paid tax of around Rs 1,800, including the cess. But now, the slabs have been revised and we have to pay lifetime tax at one go," said K Radhakrishna Holla, president, Karnataka State Travel Operators' Association.

He said those buying vehicles priced within Rs 10 lakh, which include most commercial vehicles, will have to shell out around Rs 50,000 as lifetime tax at one go at the time of registration. As per the updated slabs, those buying vehicles priced within Rs 10-15 lakh have to pay 9% of the vehicle cost as lifetime tax. Those buying vehicles priced at Rs 15 lakh and above will have to pay 15% for the vehicle cost. EVs priced above Rs 25 lakh were exempted from road tax. But now, those buying such vehicles have to pay 10% of the vehicle cost. Holla said Karnataka still lags behind in the adoption of electric vehicles. At this juncture, the government should not be levying taxes on e-vehicles. It will discourage people from operating commercial e-cars.

The lifetime tax for vehicles used in the construction sector and for those having air compressors and generators will be 8% of the cost of the vehicle. The state government's revenue collection target for the Transport Department for 2025-26 is Rs 15,000 crore.

COURTS FORCE MINISTERS' EXITS, BUT DMK NOT OUT OF CORRUPTION CLOUD

THE unceremonious exits of V Senthil Balaji, Tamil Nadu's minister for electricity, prohibition and excise, and K Ponmudy, minister for forests, have come at the behest of the higher judiciary. While hearing a petition to cancel Balaji's bail in a money laundering case last week, the Supreme Court had given him a week's time to choose between resigning and returning to jail. On the other hand, Ponmudy drew the ire of the Madras High Court, which took suo motu cognisance of his unpalatable remarks on Hindu sects at a public event.

The DMK wants Balaji, who has the potential to deliver western Tamil Nadu for the party at the next assembly election, to be active on the field. The region is likely to see the toughest battle in 2026, with the AIADMK and the BJP, both with their strongest presence there, joining hands again. Having switched from the AIADMK to the DMK in 2018, Balaji is expected to work more vigorously to ensure the latter's return.

The resignation of Ponmudy, 74, may signal the beginning of the veteran's gradual retirement. The DMK, which has been put on the defensive many a time because of gaffes by some of its ministers, certainly did not want to provide more fodder to the BJP, which has never missed an opportunity to label the DMK "anti-Hindu". So, as Ponmudy's remarks went viral, the DMK swiftly stripped him of the party deputy general secretary's post and made him apologise publicly. However, the high court initiated suo motu action after the police failed to register a case. He had lost his ministership once in 2023 after conviction in a disproportionate assets case, only to return after the SC stayed the verdict. The DMK, wary of another judicial direction forcing a minister's removal, opted to pre-empt such a scenario. Meanwhile, the move to reinduct T Mano Thangaraj from Kanyakumari district into the cabinet appears driven by electoral factors as the BJP stronghold had no cabinet representation in recent months.

One cannot be sure whether this will be the DMK's final cabinet reshuffle before the 2026 election. The high court recently revived disproportionate assets cases against two senior ministers, Duraimurugan and I Periyasamy, while the Enforcement Directorate searched properties linked to K N Nehru. These moves can set off another reshuffle. The ruling party may face a tough time parrying the opposition's allegations of corruption.

INDIA-PAK SPORTING TIES SOUR POST PAHALGAM

THE terrorist act in Pahalgam has affected almost every sphere where India and Pakistan are involved—including sports. The latest move is India pulling out of the Central Asian Volleyball Championship at Islamabad in May, which the Pakistan volleyball federation has confirmed. The SAAF Senior Athletics meet, scheduled to be hosted by the Athletics Federation of India in Ranchi on May 5, in which Pakistan were supposed to compete, has been postponed. The event's future is uncertain, because the AFI has left the decision at the foreign and sports ministries' doorsteps. These are not normal times—when lives are at stake, sporting ties are bound to be affected. Olympic and world championship medallist Neeraj Chopra, who had invited Arshad Nadeem two days before the Pahalgam shooting, was trolled online. He took to social media to express sadness that his "love for the country and the honour of my family are being questioned".

Not just volleyball and athletics, some other major sports are also going to be affected over the next 12 months. India is co-hosting the T20 World Cup next February; the women's ODI World Cup is scheduled in India later this year. Then there is the Asia Cup for men. Because of the fixture's massive fan following, the organisers and broadcasters would have wanted the two nations to play each other. Pakistan have already said they would not play in India. It needs to be seen if the international and Asian cricket councils want the two to play in different groups. Security would remain a big concern.

Sports and politics seem inseparable. The 2022 football World Cup was laced with political undertones. Even last year's Paris Olympics, despite the International Olympic Committee's efforts, became a reflection of the geopolitical divides of our times. Both India and Pakistan have used sport as a diplomatic tool earlier—either for furthering relations or restricting cross-border contact. When India sent their tennis team to Pakistan last year after six decades, it was seen as an easing of tensions. Pakistani players have also visited India for hockey, squash and athletics in the last couple of years. But without peace, sports will take a backseat.

QUICK TAKE

GUARD THE GRID

ON Monday, a massive power outage hit all of Spain and Portugal, and parts of France and Belgium. The worst blackout in Europe's modern history affected transport, healthcare, communication and banking. As leaders scrambled to emergency cabinet meetings, it slowly emerged that this was no cyber attack. A clear understanding is still clouded by officious jargon, but some power companies have explained that extreme temperature variations in Spain's interiors, which led to anomalous oscillations in high-voltage lines, could have added to a demand surge in other parts of Europe. As India faces another record-breaking summer, our authorities would do well to learn from the European failure and improve our grid's resilience.

MANDAR PARDIKAR

UNDER the Indian Constitution, some obligations of constitutional authorities are mandated, while others are implied. Some obligations evolve over time and acquire the status of conventions. But no constitutional functionary has the discretion to act in a manner that prevents another constitutional authority from discharging its sovereign functions.

On April 17, while addressing some interns in parliament, Vice President Jagdeep Dhankhar made a statement on a judgement of the Supreme Court in which Justices J B Pardiwala and R Mahadevan set a timeline for the president to sign bills passed by state assemblies. This was with reference to the inaction of the governor in not clearing bills passed by the Tamil Nadu legislature.

The question that arose was in the context of Article 200 of the Constitution, which stipulates, "When a bill has been passed by the legislative assembly of a state, or in the case of a state having a legislative council, has been passed by both Houses of the legislature of the state, it shall be presented to the governor, and the governor shall declare either that he assents to the bill, or that he withholds assent therefrom, or that he reserves the bill for the consideration of the president." There is no timeline prescribed in Article 200 within which the governor is to either grant or withhold consent, or to reserve the bill for the president's consideration.

The proviso to Article 200, however, stipulates that "the governor may, as soon as possible after the presentation to him of the bill for assent, return the bill if it is not a money bill, together with a message requesting that the House will reconsider the bill or any specified provisions thereof and consider the desirability of introducing any such amendments as he may recommend in his message and, when a bill is so returned, the House or Houses shall reconsider the bill accordingly, and if the bill is passed again by the House or Houses, with or without amendment and presented to the governor for assent, the governor shall not withhold assent therefrom".

This clearly shows that the governor is obliged to send a message to the House qua the bill to which he does not accord assent "as soon as possible". Now, the question that arose before the court is whether the governor is entitled, as a matter of constitutional law, to sit on the bill without either assenting to it or sending a message to the House with his recommendations. Obviously, even though no timeline is given in the proviso, it is inherent in the discharge of the governor's functions that he cannot sit on the bill interminably.

It is obvious that an unelected constitutional authority, who performs purely executive functions, mostly ceremonial, except those required to be performed in his discretion under the Constitution, must ensure that his actions are not a roadblock on giving effect to the legislations cleared by a sovereign legislature. If he so does, the only option left with the court is to provide a reasonable procedure for ensuring that the governor acts expeditiously to implement the will of the state's sovereign legislature.

After referring to the history of legislations during the period when the British were in power and analysing its evolution, the court came to the conclusion that the governor must, in this context, discharge his constitutional functions with alacrity, not later than 3 months of the bill's presentation to him by the legislative assembly's speaker.

The second proviso to Article 200 further stipulates that if the governor reserves for the consideration of the president any bill that, in his opinion, would, if it were to become law, so derogate from the powers of the high court as to endanger the position which that court is by this Constitution designed to fill. What it means is that the limited power of the governor in reserving a bill for the president's consideration relates to it endangering the position of the court under the Constitution. The question arose as to whether, in such a situation, the president should act with alacrity given the fact that a sovereign legislature has passed the bill.

Collaborative procedural mechanisms must be put in place to ensure that each institution and authority functions in accordance with the letter and spirit of the Constitution, without impeding the functioning of others; more so since federalism is part of the basic structure of the Constitution.

As far as the position of the president is concerned, when the bill is received by the president for his or her assent, the president acts on the aid and advice of the Council of Ministers. The second proviso to Article 200 does not give any discretion to the president to act in his or her individual capacity. Therefore, it was unnecessary for the vice president to have stated publicly that the court cannot trammel upon the powers of the president.

It is an accepted principle of constitutional law that the president acts on the aid and advice of the Council of Ministers and the direction given by the court for the president to discharge his or her functions is, in fact, a direction to the Union cabinet. The cabinet must act with alacrity within 3 months, and for reasons to be recorded indicating why a decision qua the bill could not be taken within the period.

The Supreme Court's declaration of the law in this regard is clearly within the constitutional framework; for, otherwise, sovereign legislative bodies will be impeded in discharging their functions at the discretion of the governor and in the case of the president, the Union cabinet.

It is in this context that the vice president's comments that the Supreme Court, in exercising power under Article 142 of the Constitution, acts as a 'nuclear missile' are both unfortunate and inapt. Indeed, the high constitutional functionary should not be involved in the political thicket by making public statements of this nature. This creates unnecessary controversy inconsistent with the dignity of the office that the vice president holds, and the respect that it deserves.

Such controversies are constitutionally suspect, and seek to divide rather than unite. (Views are personal)

STANDING BETWEEN WAR & PEACE

E D MATHEW

Former UN spokesperson, participated in peacekeeping missions in Timor-Leste and Liberia

THE Trump administration recently unveiled a controversial proposal to stop all US support for UN's peacekeeping operations—a drastic step that could profoundly undermine global stability. The memo, leaked to the media, proposes sweeping cuts to the US state department budget and a complete withdrawal of American financial support, currently with $1.2 billion in dues, from the UN's peacekeeping budget.

While the proposal still requires congressional approval, the implications are stark. Since its formal inception in 1948, UN peacekeeping missions have become one of the most vital and cost-effective tools to manage conflicts and promote stability around the world. It is not only about deploying soldiers to conflict zones; it represents a multi-dimensional approach to peacebuilding that addresses the political, economic and social dimensions of post-conflict recovery.

These operations are designed to support peace agreements, maintain ceasefires, disarm combatants and protect vulnerable populations. Over the past several decades, this model has proven particularly effective in countries such as Liberia, Sierra Leone and Côte d'Ivoire, all of which suffered from devastating civil wars in the early 2000s.

Over 68,000 personnel are currently deployed across 11 UN peace operations. Most peacekeepers come from developing countries like India, Bangladesh, Nepal, Rwanda and Nigeria. Wealthier nations, especially the US, provide the bulk of funding. The US alone contributes 27 percent of the $5.6 billion annual peacekeeping budget—an investment that has historically garnered bipartisan support in Washington.

Defunding peacekeeping could lead to the collapse or curtailment of critical missions in South Sudan, Lebanon and the Democratic Republic of Congo. Cuts at this time could initiate a domino effect, prompting other donor nations to withdraw support, jeopardising fragile peace in many regions.

The situation in Somalia offers a stark warning. The country remains embroiled in a deadly struggle with Al Shabab, a jihadist group affiliated with Al Qaeda. The African Union Support and Stabilisation Mission in Somalia (AUSSOM) is a critical player in maintaining a fragile peace. However, a UN Security Council resolution proposing a hybrid funding model to support AUSSOM has faced US opposition.

The Trump administration's scepticism stems from concerns such as Somalia's governance and the cost implications for UN member states. But inaction carries a much higher price. Al Shabab has intensified attacks, including a March 2025 ambush targeting the Somali president's convoy. According to General Michael Langley of US Africa Command, the group is expanding ties with the Iran-backed Houthis, threatening international shipping lanes in the Red Sea and Gulf of Aden.

AFP

The Trump administration wants to cut all funding for UN peacekeeping missions. While it might offer short-term savings for the US, the long-term consequences for the world could be devastating. The Blue Helmets have brought many nations back from the brink of collapse

This worry is not limited to East Africa. Peacekeeping failure in the DRC could open the door for M23 rebels, allegedly backed by Rwanda, to advance on the capital, Kinshasa—a potential regional catastrophe in a country rich in minerals critical to global supply chains.

In South Sudan, the absence of peacekeepers could result in widespread civilian massacres amid ethnic tensions. And in Lebanon, without the UN interim force monitoring the ceasefire, conflict between Israel and Hezbollah could reignite and escalate into a regional war.

While acknowledging past failures, such as the inability to prevent genocides in Rwanda and Bosnia in the 1990s, the track record of UN peacekeeping over the past 25 years underscores its immense value. Missions in Haiti, Timor-Leste and Kosovo helped stabilise countries on the brink of collapse. In Cyprus, a relatively small force has prevented two NATO allies, Greece and Turkey, from reigniting a decades-old conflict.

The proposed cuts are strategically reckless. While the peacekeeping budget represents a small fraction of the US defence budget, its returns in terms of global stability and prevention of larger-scale conflicts are invaluable. The Trump administration's parallel proposal to establish a $2.1-billion 'America First Opportunities Fund' as an alternative source of foreign assistance lacks the multilateral legitimacy, scope and infrastructure of UN peacekeeping. Selective bilateral aid cannot replace the systematic, rules-based engagement that UN missions offer.

By disengaging from multilateral peace operations, America is sending the wrong message to the world. Following the Second World War, the US helped build a system of international cooperation designed to prevent the very types of conflicts that devastated the 20th century. Walking away from that system now would not only betray that legacy but also invite greater instability, humanitarian disaster and even new wars.

The US Congress still has a chance to act. It can reject the cuts and reaffirm US commitment to global peace. In the end, the Trump administration must understand that slashing peacekeeping may save money in the short term, but the long-term costs—humanitarian crises, mass displacement, new insurgencies and possible military entanglements—will far outweigh the short-term benefits.

The US must choose between retreating from global responsibility and inviting chaos and continuing its tradition of leading the world. The former path will lead to more conflict, while the latter offers a chance to uphold a system that, while imperfect, has preserved peace and saved lives across the globe.

INDIA SHREDS 'ROGUE STATE' PAK AT UN

Cites Pak defence minister's 'open confession' to funding terror outfits ● Video shows operator chanted 'Allahu Akbar' during Baisaran carnage

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA has branded Pakistan a "rogue state" at the United Nations, citing Pakistani Defence Minister Khawaja Asif's "open confession" to funding and supporting terrorist groups.

The strong rebuke came just days after the Pahalgam terror attack in Jammu and Kashmir, which claimed 26 lives — the highest civilian toll in a single attack since the 2008 Mumbai attacks.

India's Deputy Permanent Representative to the UN, Yojna Patel, responded firmly. "It is unfortunate that one particular delegation has chosen to misuse and undermine this forum to indulge in propaganda and make baseless allegations against India. The whole world has heard Pakistan's Defence Minister Khawaja Asif admitting and confessing Pakistan's history of supporting, training and funding terrorist organisations in a recent television interview," she said.

In a televised interview with Sky News, Asif openly admitted that Pakistan had long supported militant groups and said: "We have been doing this dirty work for the United States for about three decades and the West, including Britain.. That was a mistake, and we suffered for that... If we had not joined the war against the Soviet Union and later on the war after 9/11, Pakistan's track record was unimpeachable."

Speaking at the launch of the Victims of Terrorism Associations Network (VoTAN), Patel described the Pahalgam attack as a grave tragedy. "The Pahalgam terrorist attack represents the largest number of civilian casualties since the horrific 26/11 Mumbai attacks in 2008. Having been a victim of cross-border terrorism for decades, India fully understands the long-lasting impact such acts have on victims, their families and society."

She also acknowledged international support in the aftermath of the Pahalgam attack: "India appreciates and values the strong, unequivocal support and solidarity extended by leaders and governments worldwide. This is a testimony to the international community's zero tolerance for terrorism."

Highlighting the role of the newly launched VoTAN initiative, Patel said, "We reiterate that terrorism in all its forms must be condemned unequivocally. The establishment of the Victims of Terrorism Association is a significant step. It will create a structured, safe space for victims to be heard and supported."

Jawan in custody, BSF lodges protest with Pak Rangers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

UNDER instruction from the Union Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA), the Border Security Force (BSF) has lodged a protest with Pakistan Rangers on the whereabouts of a jawan, after he had mistakenly crossed over to the Pakistani side along the international border in Punjab a week ago, officials said on Tuesday.

According to the officials, in such incidents earlier, the matters used to be resolved quickly, but this time Pakistan remained "non-committal" on the whereabouts and the date of return of the jawan.

This has happened because of the rising India-Pakistan tensions after the Pahalgam attack, they added.

The BSF has also instituted an inquiry into the incident, in which Constable PK Shahu of the 24th battalion was caught by the Pakistan Rangers on April 23 after the jawan inadvertently crossed the IB along the Ferozepur district.

The officials said that a protest note has been sent to Pakistan Rangers and they have remained "non-committal" on the whereabouts and the date of return of the jawan.

So far, the two border guarding forces held four flag meetings, but there is no final word on his return and the protest note has been given to the sector commander of the Pakistan Rangers by the BSF, they said.

After video goes viral, NIA picks zipline operator

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

ZIPLINE operator Muzamil Ahmed Kumhar, who was heard chanting 'Allahu Akbar' as the terrorists started firing at tourists in Pahalgam's Baisaran meadows on April 22, has been picked up for questioning by the NIA, which is probing the terror attack in which 25 tourists and a local resident were killed.

Muzamil was heard chanting 'Allahu Akbar' thrice in a selfie video shot by Rishi Bhatt, a tourist from Ahmedabad, while taking the zipline ride on the day of the deadly terror attack.

TERROR in KASHMIR

Muzamil's father said his son had visited his home in Anantnag on Monday and was picked up by policemen in the evening. When told that his son had chanted 'Allahu Akbar' when the terrorists fired at the tourists, he said, "We are Muslims and even if the storm comes, we will say 'Allahu Akbar'. If we do some work, we will say 'Allahu Akbar'. What is in it?"

A sources said, "The zipline operator is being quizzed by NIA officials about his chanting 'Allahu Akbar' at the start of the terror attack. The NIA and J&K police are probing if he has links with terrorism."

Muzamil's brother Mukhtar Ahmed said his brother was picked up by police on April 23, a day after the attack, and released on Monday and then picked up again by police in the evening. He said his brother has been working in the zipline for the last three years.

Referring to the video in which Muzamil chants 'Allahu Akbar', Mukhtar said, "If you see the video, he himself does not know that the terror attack is taking place. He is releasing the tourist's zipline because he himself does not know of the attack."

He said after the terror attack, he returned home and was very scared.

"He was picked up the next day by police for questioning," Ahmed said.

Police have identified three Lashkar-e-Toiba terrorists, including two Pakistanis and one local, for carrying out the attack on tourists at Baisaran. A massive search operation has been launched in Baisaran and its adjoining forest areas to track down the attackers. "The operation continued on Tuesday. We will catch them very soon," a security official said.

TOUGH LINE

1 J&K authorities have transported 59 Pakistani nationals to Punjab for their repatriation to their country of origin, officials said. The Pakistani nationals, who were living in the Valley for decades and included the mother of Shaurya Chakra awardee Constable Mudasir Ahmad Sheikh, were collected from various districts and taken in buses to Punjab, where they will be handed over to Pakistani authorities.

2 EAM S Jaishankar on Tuesday discussed the terror attack with his counterparts from Slovenia, Panama, Algeria and Guyana during separate phone conversations. Jaishankar is understood to have stated India's policy on "zero tolerance" towards terrorism. India would deal with perpetrators, planners and backers of the attack strongly, Jaishankar told UN Secretary António Guterre.

3 The RSS-affiliated 'Organiser' has found 'intelligence gap' coupled with infiltration from Pakistan. "The Pahalgam attack has yet again underscored the challenge of continued infiltration from Pakistan-occupied territories coupled with intelligence gaps due to the local support," the periodical said.

BJP, Cong in pictorial war, trade charges over Pahalgam terror attack response

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

IN the aftermath of the terror attack in Pahalgam, a pictorial war erupted on Tuesday between the ruling BJP and the Congress.

The Congress posted an image of a headless figure with the caption "Jimedari ke Samay-Gayab," indirectly criticising Prime Minister Narendra Modi for his perceived delay in taking action against the attack.

The BJP responded swiftly and sharply, stating, "Congress flaunts a headless kurta to echo the extremist's 'Tan Se Sar Juda' slogan, exposing its continuous slide into Muslim League 2.0 — divisive, desperate, and directionless." The party equated the Congress post with the extremist slogan "Sar Tan Se Juda," accusing the opposition of aligning with extremist sentiments. The Congress subsequently deleted the controversial post from the social media platform.

The BJP also described Congress leaders as fellow- travellers of Pakistan, asserting in its response post: "Let Pakistan and its fellow-travellers in @INCIndia threaten all they wish; New India will neither bend nor break. Terror will be met with bullets, not biryani. This is the era of decisive leadership."

Launching a scathing attack on the Congress, BJP national spokesperson Gaurav Bhatia claimed the post was designed to signal to Pakistan that the Congress stood with them amid the crisis.

Kharge, Rahul write to Modi for spl session

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

CONGRESS chief Mallikarjun Kharge and Leader of Opposition in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi wrote to Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday, requesting him to convene a special session of Parliament to discuss the Pahalgam terror attack and demonstrate a collective resolve.

Several opposition parties, including Rashtriya Janata Dal (RJD) and Communist Party of India (CPI), have also made a similar demand to the Centre in the wake of the attack in which 26 people, mostly tourists, were killed last week.

In the letter, Kharge said, "At this moment, when unity and solidarity are essential, the Opposition believes that it is important to convene a special session of both Houses of Parliament as soon as possible.

"This will be a powerful demonstration of our collective resolve and willpower to deal with the attack," he said.

Echoing the same, Gandhi, in his letter, stated that the Pahalgam tragedy has outraged every Indian. "At this critical time, India must show that we will always stand together against terrorism. The Opposition believes that a special session of both Houses of Parliament should be convened, where the representatives of the people can show their unity and determination," he added.

While the government has not responded to the call for a special Parliament session, sources discounted such a possibility and noted that the all-party meeting was called to present a picture of national unity.

Later, AICC general secretary Jairam Ramesh said Parliament is the supreme political body in the country, and it is not new as special sessions have been held earlier.

Meanwhile, the party leadership issued a gag order instructing its spokespersons to confine themselves to the CWC's stated position in the resolution on the Pahalgam terror attack.

In a circular issued by AICC General Secretary (Organisation) K C Venugopal, the party warned that any contravention of the directive will invite strict disciplinary action without exception.

A NEW ERA DAWNS AT KANCHI

S VAIDHYASUBRAMANIAM

Vice-Chancellor & Tata Sons Chair Professor of Management, SASTRA (Deemed) University

THE venerated Kanchi Kamakoti Peetam, the 2,500-plus-years-old mutt established by Adi Sankara, is buzzing with festivities. The anointment of the 71st Sankaracharya of the peetam is a significant moment in the spiritual, cultural and social journey of the mutt. A disciple of Sri Sankara Vijayendra Saraswathi Swamigal, the 70th Sankaracharya, will be the mutt's 71st Sankaracharya in this unbroken lineage that is a continuum non pareil.

With this anointment, the devotees shall once again be doubly-blessed, as they were during the time of the 69th Sankaracharya, Sri Jayendra Saraswathi Swamigal, between 1994 and 2017. Triply-blessed were those during the 1983-1994 period that saw the 68th Sankaracharya, Sri Chandrasekharendra Saraswathi Swamigal, reverentially known as the Mahaswamigal, making the trinity of the mutt's Acharyas a rare spectacle. The mutt's three-pronged approach towards propagating Sanatan Dharma—protecting civilisational assets, enabling intellectual assets, and enriching human life and livelihood—has been phenomenal. Its Veda, Vidya and Vaidya sevas have transformed various dimensions of Bharat's growth over the last century.

Mahaswamigal's predominant focus on protecting Vedic and other holy assets of Bharat and the 69th Sankaracharya's social outreach through education and healthcare have made the 70th Acharya's continuing odyssey stronger while anointing the 71st. Without compromising on rigorous religiosity despite having a punishing schedule, the Acharyas have blended spiritual and social causes in a seamless unison, cementing its headquarters in the holy town of Kanchi while spreading good deeds all over the country.

Festive fervour has gripped the temple town ahead of the anointment of Kanchi Kamakoti Peetam's 71st Sankaracharya. He will take forward the substantive work of the previous Acharyas in nurturing spiritual and social causes

With the Adi Sankara temple in Srinagar and many other temples across the country, eye hospitals in many places including Assam and Varanasi, Veda pathshalas and schools across locations, and a university for higher education and research, the Kanchi Mutt is a marvellous miscellany, true to Kalidasa's poetic words, 'nagereshu Kanchi (the greatest of cities being Kanchi)'.

Just as Kanchi Mutt's founder Adi Sankara travelled across Bharat on foot, the 68th and 69th Acharyas have undertaken padayatras across the nation with a kaleidoscopic sweep of initiatives that have touched millions across generations. The 70th Acharya's care towards rural development, coupled with traditional practices, has attracted strategic minds to blend modern facilities with ancient wisdom in achieving a nurtured and nutritive balance. Some of his schemes to promote agriculture, cow farming and socioeconomic projects based on the Indian knowledge system have characterised the mutt's tri-dimensional foray with sustainable reach. His contributions, guided by his revered guru in absentia, to the reconstruction of the Ram temple at Ayodhya will be etched in the memories of many.

The trinocular vision with which he steers the mutt's three-dimensional objectives stretching beyond conventional boundaries will be inspirational for his successor. It is this continuum of lineage—not only through physical presence and knowledge, but also through spiritual-social munificence and action—that has made Kanchi Mutt a revered place of unifying sanctity. With the anointment today and Sankara Jayanthi (birthday of Adi Sankara) on May 2 to follow, the temple town of Kanchi is dazzling with divinity, sprouting with spirituality and towering with bhakti.

Devotees have already been thronging the town in huge numbers ever since the formal announcement was made a few days ago. Traditional rituals are beginning as Kanchipuram is gearing up for the historic occasion. The new Sankaracharya's pious and radiant looks have already taken social media by storm. With this, millions of devotees are getting another Acharya—another coming of the mutt's first principles.

As today's edition hits the stands, the newly-named '—endra Saraswathi' Acharya Swamigal, as per the mutt's tradition, shall adorn the saffron robes and hold the sanctified danda to guide Bharat along with the 70th Acharya. With 'Hara Hara Sankara, Jaya Jaya Sankara' blowing through the skies of Kanchi and magnifying the works of the mutt, a new day dawns at the holy temple town. (Views are personal)

SC rejects Bhatt's plea for suspension of sentence in '90 custodial death case

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday rejected sacked Gujarat cadre IPS officer Sanjiv Bhatt's interim plea seeking suspension of life sentence or bail in a 1990 custodial death case.

Given that today's judgement is interim, the SC will hear Bhatt's appeal expeditiously in the coming days. The judgement came as a major setback for Bhatt, a firm critic of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, as the court also denied him bail.

A two-judge bench comprising Justices Vikram Nath and Sandeep Mehta, while rejecting Bhatt's appeal, directed to expedite the hearing on his appeal. "Prayer for grant of bail is dismissed and hearing on appeal is expedited," said the SC.

It added that the appeal, which is pending before the top court, will be heard by the SC expeditiously. Shaswat Anand, one of Bhatt's lawyers, argued the matter in the SC and claimed innocence in the case.

"We are not inclined to enlarge the appellant on bail. Our observations made herein above are restricted to bail only will have no bearing on the appeals of the Appellant and co-accused. The prayers sought by the Appellant (Sanjiv Bhatt) is dismissed, however, the hearing of the appeal is directed to be expedited," the apex court said.

Bhatt has sought an interim order for bail and sentence suspension. According to the prosecution, Bhatt was the prime accused in the custodial death of Prabhudas Madhavji Vaishnani, who was allegedly tortured while in police custody during his tenure in 1990 as the Assistant Superintendent of Police in Jamnagar.

The Gujarat police detained Vaishnani during a Bharat Bandh in November 1990, called due to the arrest of senior BJP leader Lal Krishna Advani in Bihar during his 'Rath Yatra'. Vaishnani died on November 18, the same year, after being released on bail, and his death happened due to renal failure.

After the trial completed against Bhatt, a Sessions Court in Jamnagar in June 2019 sentenced him to life imprisonment after convicting him guilty under sections 302 (Murder), 323 (Voluntarily causing hurt), and 506(1) (Criminal intimidation) of the IPC.

Apart from Bhatt, police constables Pravinsinh Jadeja, Anopsinh Jethva and Kesubha Dolubha Jadeja and police sub-inspectors Shailesh Pandya and Dipak kumar Bhagwandas Shah were also found guilty of custodial torture and were convicted under Sections 323 (Voluntarily causing hurt) and 506 (1) (Criminal intimidation) of the IPC.

STORIES FROM THE BORDER

This newspaper talks to people scrambling to cross over to Pak or waiting anxiously on the other side to enter India

HARPREET BAJWA, ANURAAG SINGH, RAJESH ASNANI & EJAZ KAISER
@Chandigarh/Bhopal/Jaipur/Raipur

THE stalemate over visa cancellations post-Pahalgam attack ended on Tuesday, with 70 Pakistan national women possessing long-term visas and No Obligation to Return to India (NORI) certificates permitted to cross over into India at the Integrated Check Post (ICP) at the Attari border.

Initially, the Centre revoked all visas issued to Pakistan nationals visiting India. As a result, spouses of Indian citizens with Pakistani passports faced an emotional situation; those currently visiting or residing in India had to return to Pakistan, leaving their children behind if the latter were Indian citizens. Indian nationals currently visiting Pakistan could return to India but not with their children if the latter held Pakistan passports.

However, the Centre revised the visa guidelines allowing those on Long-Term Visas to stay in the country. So, on Tuesday, Pakistani immigration authorities allowed women holding Pakistani passports and married to Indian nationals and having NORI certificates and long-term visas to cross over to India, sources said.

In total, 240 people from Pakistan, including more than 70 NORI visa holders, entered India, and 140 people from India returned to Pakistan via the Attari border.

VIGNETTES FROM ATTARI

Family members waiting at the border post were relieved after the decision. Dr Vikram Udasi, from Jalgaon, Maharashtra, had been waiting at the Attari border since April 25 to receive his wife Priya, a Pakistani national, and child Ahan, who were in Pakistan visiting family. They were reunited after both crossed over. "Finally, after the long wait, I have met my wife and child, and now we are returning to our home town. She has been on a Long-Term Visa for the past eight years, which is valid until 2026," he said.

Rishi Kumar from Kolhapur in Maharashtra, was equally happy. He was waiting for his wife and children at the Attari border for the last few days. His wife hails from Balochistan, a Pakistani national, while her two children are Indians. The three went to Pakistan to visit family. She was ultimately allowed to return to India along with her children.

EDGE OF UNCERTAINTY

In Madhya Pradesh, the fate of nine children with Pakistani passports and short-term visas hangs in balance. The state government has sought the Centre's advice on nine children born to Pakistani fathers and Indian mothers, who are now with their mothers.

The kids are between one year and 11 years of age. Four, aged between four and seven, are with their mother in their maternal home Indore, three others in Jabalpur and two in Bhopal.

In the Jabalpur case, the mother brought the children on short-term visas last month because of financial difficulties, as their father was unemployed in Pakistan.

"There were 14 Pakistani nationals in MP, including the nine children with their Indian mothers in Indore, Bhopal and Jabalpur. Also, a young man (from the Sindhi community) was on a short-term visa in Bhopal. He had applied for a long-term visa just a few hours before the Centre ordered the revoking of 14 categories of visas and asked those Pakistani nationals to leave India by April 27. We've sought the central government's advice and guidance in all these cases of the 10 Pakistani nationals, including the nine kids," a senior state police officer told this newspaper on Tuesday.

Three of the 14 Pakistani nationals who had to leave the country by April 27 have already left and crossed the international border into Pakistan.

In the case of a six-year-old kid, a Pakistani national, who had come with the Indian mother to the maternal grandparents' place in Indore, the matter of both going to Pakistan is reportedly being looked into by the Foreigners Registration Office in Delhi.

The Centre revoked the 14 categories of visas on April 25 in the wake of the ghastly April 22 Pahalgam terror attack, and Pakistan nationals who were in India on such visas were asked to leave the country by April 27.

In a communication to all state governments, the Union Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA), however, added that the order would not apply to Long-Term Visa (LTV) holders besides diplomatic and official visa holders Pakistani nationals.

WHO STAY, WHO DON'T

In Rajasthan, security agencies have deported 129 of the 400 Pakistani nationals residing in the state. According to official sources, 109 individuals were sent back by April 27, and an additional 20 were deported on April 28. However, several others currently remain untraceable, and efforts are underway to locate them.

In a parallel development, after the Centre said in an updated directive that Long-Term Visa holders are not required to leave the country, 362 Pakistan nationals in Rajasthan have had their LTVs approved and formally registered in the last three days. Officials clarified that applicants whose LTV cases are pending or under consideration are exempt from deportation.

Notably, Pakistani Muslim women married to Indian citizens and residing in India on LTVs are also not being asked to return to Pakistan under the revised rules.

A significant number of Pakistani refugees, especially Hindus, have settled in the border districts of Rajasthan, including Jaisalmer, Barmer, and particularly Jodhpur. In many cases, families have been split due to cross-border marriages—where one half of the family is in India while the other remains in Pakistan or faces pressure to return.

In at least three to four reported instances, mothers hold passports from one country, while their children have obtained citizenship in another, typically due to birth circumstances. These families now face the emotional and logistical burden of separation until new regulations are introduced or the situation stabilises.

FATE OF A FEW

In Chhattisgarh, the Raigarh police have arrested two Pakistani citizens who acquired Indian voter identity cards through fraudulent means and by providing fake information.

The district police said Iftekhar Sheikh (29) and Armish Sheikh (25) are brother and sister. The duo stayed in the Kodatarai area of Raigarh district, about 230 km east of Raipur.

Additional SP (Raigarh) told this newspaper, "Their father, Yakub Sheikh, is Indian and stays in Raigarh. He married a Pakistani woman who died during the Covid-19 pandemic. The two children were born in Pakistan but were raised and schooled in India. Both are here on valid Long-Term Visas, and, at present, they can't be deported. But they furnished wrong information and procured Indian voter ID cards, following which a case has been registered against them."

The police had launched a drive to ensure no Pakistan nationals were found staying illegally in the district, and "both the Pakistan nationals were traced during the intensive verification campaign," said Jutemill police station in-charge Prashant Rao.

The police have registered the case against both under sections 199, 200 (false statement made in declaration), 419 (cheating by impersonation), 467 (forgery of valuable security, will), 468 (forgery to cheat) and 34 (common intention) of the IPC.

Dr Vikram Udasi, from Jalgaon, Maharashtra, had been waiting at the Attari border since April 25 to receive his wife Priya, a Pakistan national, and child Ahan, who were visiting family in Pakistan. They were reunited after both crossed over. "Finally, after the long wait, I have met my wife and child, and now we are returning to our home town. She has been on a Long-Term Visa for the past eight years, which is valid until 2026," he said.

Party's interest above all, says Mayawati

The BSP supremo is out to justify re-induction of expelled party members saying such decisions are entirely motivated by the interests of the party. Apparently, in a veiled reference to the repeated expulsions and readmission of her nephew Akash Anand, BSP chief Mayawati said there are no qualms if people, who have worked for the party, rejoin its ranks after leaving once. "When few party members start weakening the party, or become undisciplined and lack sincerity, it becomes necessary to expel them in the interest of the party. But, after they realise their mistakes, they are taken back into party fold," Mayawati wrote in a series of posts on X.

Prayagraj man feted by the British monarch

Sameer Sah from Prayagraj has been honoured with the Humanitarian Medal by King Charles III at a Buckingham Palace ceremony for his exceptional service in humanitarian emergencies and human welfare in the face of crisis. Sameer is the first Indian to have received the honour for providing medical aid in war-torn Gaza – leading the first WHO emergency medical team convoy into the West Bank in December 2023. Hailing from Nainital and educated at St Joseph's College in Prayagraj, Sameer is an Overseas Citizen of India. Currently living in Colchester, England, Sameer has over 30 years of experience in the human development sector.

The rare achievement of a murder convict

Jubilations inside a prison are rare scenes. One such occasion presented itself in Pratapgarh district jail as a murder convict scored 71.6%, highest among all the 105 inmates who took the Class 12 UP Board exams across various prisons in the state. The results of Class 10 and 12 board exams were announced recently. One of the convicts, Amethi-born Pintu alias Omprakash Gupta, 35, passed the intermediate exam with 71.6% marks while serving life imprisonment for murder. Lodged in Pratapgarh jail since June 2021, Pintu used to study at night as he worked in the jail canteen. He procured his subject books from the prison library and often took help of jail teachers.

Any alliance should be based on principles: Badal

SUKHBIR SINGH BADAL has been re-elected president of the Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD). The former Punjab Deputy Chief Minister heads the century-old party when it faces its worst crisis yet and strives to regain its footing in state politics. Badal talks to Harpreet Bajwa about his challenges and what went wrong with his party's relations with the BJP. Excerpts:

Former Deputy CM Sukhbir Singh Badal is back in the saddle. Has he weathered all storms? Were the last few months tough-going?
SAD and its leadership are known for their struggles for the public good. We have always worked for welfare of the kisan, mazdoor and weaker sections. The last six months, which you describe as a tough phase for the party, came about due to a conspiracy to take control of our religious shrines, ideology and institutions. The recent political conference on Baisakhi (April 13), which witnessed a record turnout, can be described as a mass awakening in this regard. Punjabis have decided to stand up against outside forces who want to weaken the SAD, and I'm confident we will get stronger by the day.

You gave party supporters a clarion call to return the SAD to power in the 2027 Assembly polls. How do you plan to go about it?
There is a groundswell of public support for the SAD based on its past record of speedy development, unique social welfare schemes and its ability to maintain peace and communal harmony when in government. Simultaneously, Punjabis are determined to see the back of the AAP, which has betrayed them. They also don't want a return to the days of corruption and mismanagement of the Congress.

Where does the party stand for today? Has the rival faction, which parted ways, impacted your popularity among Sikhs?
The SAD is on an upswing. The party's recent organisational elections witnessed a record 27 lakh people enrolling as members. This indicates that the Sikh Panth has understood that the leaders who left the SAD to form their faction (Sudhar Lehar) are tools of the Centre. They have lost all credibility. People will reject any attempts to divide the Sikh community and Punjabis at large and will unite under the SAD.

After becoming party chief, you alleged that your former ally, the BJP, and certain Sikh institutions conspired against the SAD. Elaborate.
It is unfortunate but true; the BJP turned against not only the SAD but the Sikh community also once we left the NDA in support of farmers protesting the three black laws. Since then, efforts are on to weaken and take over Sikh institutions. The management committees of Sri Hazur Sahib and Patna Sahib were expanded to bring them under government control.

The BJP captured the Delhi Sikh Gurdwara Management Committee by alluring office bearers. The Shiromani Gurdwara Parbandhak Committee was broken and a separate committee was formed for Haryana. There was undue interference in SGPC elections to help stooges of the Centre.

Do you foresee a future alliance with the BJP in the 2027 Assembly elections?
We are not thinking along these lines and are strengthening the SAD to take everyone along with us. Also, I feel that an alliance, if any, should be based on principles. The SAD is firm on this. We cannot compromise our principles and our ideology at any cost. We stand for the rights of farmers, minorities and Bandi Singhs even as we want to safeguard our river waters and our rights over Chandigarh. We want trade along the Indo-Pak border to reopen.

Shah to open Delhi road in memory of Bodo leader

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah will inaugurate a road named after Bodofa Upendranath Brahma in New Delhi and unveil a statue of the legendary Bodo leader on May 1 to pay tribute to his legacy on his 35th death anniversary.

The Municipal Corporation of Delhi will rename a stretch of Lala Lajpat Rai Marg in South Delhi as Bodofa Upendranath Brahma Marg. A statue of the Bodofa (father or guardian of Bodos) will be unveiled at the Kailash Colony roundabout. Brahma was a visionary leader and social reformer who worked for the rights, identity and uplift of the Bodo community.

Shah will be chief guest at the ceremony, organised by the Assam government at Kailash Colony, New Delhi, on May 1. CM Himanta Biswa Sarma and his Delhi counterpart Rekha Gupta will be present as special guests along with Bodoland Territorial Council (BTC) chief Pramod Boro, Delhi mayor Raja Iqbal Singh, Assam Assembly speaker Biswajit Daimary, state minister Urkhao Gwra Brahma and All Bodo Students' Union (ABSU) president Dipen Boro.

Commemorating the Bodo leader, the ABSU will illuminate 5 lakh earthen and candle lights on May 1 at 5.30 pm in every household and public place across Assam and Bodoland Territorial Region. "Bodofa Upendranath Brahma dedicated his life to building an inclusive society... His ideas continue to guide generations towards collective progress," the ABSU president said.

TRUMP'S BROADSIDE GIVES CARNEY'S LIBERALS EASY WIN IN CANADIAN POLL

Canadian Prime Minister Mark Carney arrives on stage at his campaign headquarters after the Liberal Party won the federal election in Ottawa | AP

TORONTO

AS Canada's Liberals celebrated election victory in a stunning turn of fortune, the country would not know until later Tuesday whether the party of Prime Minister Mark Carney would have an outright majority or need help in Parliament.

Populist Conservative leader Pierre Poilievre — in the lead until US President Donald Trump took aim at Canada with a trade war and annexation threats — was voted out of his Parliament seat in Monday's election.

That capped a swift decline in fortunes for the firebrand Poilievre, who a few months ago appeared to be a shoo-in to become Canada's next prime minister and shepherd the Conservatives back into power for the first time in a decade.

Poilievre, a career politician, campaigned with Trump-like bravado, taking a page from the "America First" president by adopting the slogan "Canada First." But his similarities to Trump may have ultimately cost him and his party.

The Liberals were projected to win more of Parliament's 343 seats than the Conservatives. It wasn't immediately clear if they would win an outright majority — at least 172 seats — or would need to rely on a smaller party to pass legislation.

Elections Canada said it decided to pause counting of special ballots — cast by voters who are away from their districts during the election — until later Tuesday. The Liberals were leading or elected in 168 seats when counting was paused, four short of a majority. Elections Canada estimated that uncounted votes could affect the result in about a dozen districts. Canadians won't know until later in the day whether Carney's Liberals have won a minority or majority mandate. In a victory speech, Carney stressed unity in the face of Washington's threats. He said the mutually beneficial system Canada and the US had shared since World War II had ended."We are over the shock of the American betrayal, but we should never forget the lessons," he said "As I've been warning for months, America wants our land, our resources, our water, our country," Carney added.

In resignation letter, Kathpalia took moral responsibility for derivative losses incurred by the bank

IndusInd Bank MD & CEO resigns

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

IN a major development, Sumant Kathpalia, managing director & CEO of crisis-hit IndusInd Bank quit from his position on Tuesday. In his resignation letter submitted to the board, Kathpalia took the moral responsibility for the derivative losses incurred by the bank.

Kathpalia, who was given only an extension of one year by the regulator instead of three after the crisis came to light, ceases to be MD and CEO of the bank from the closing hours of Tuesday. Kathpalia had been part of the core leadership team and joined the bank 12 years ago. His resignation comes a day after Arun Khurana, whole-time director and deputy CEO stepped down from his position. Kathpalia had admitted in analysts' call that RBI was uncomfortable with his leadership skills.

2nd top-level resignation

Kathpalia had been part of core leadership team and joined the bank 12 years ago. His resignation comes a day after Arun Khurana, whole-time director & deputy CEO stepped down from his position

The bank has incurred ₹1,960 crore derivative losses due to accounting discrepancies. As per sources, the Hinduja Group-led bank had been using the dual accounting practice for its derivative transactions for the past 6-7 years. The bank used to follow accrual accounting for internal derivative trades between the asset-liability management desk and the treasury, while external counterparties' trades were marked to market. This allowed IndusInd to defer losses internally while prematurely booking gains externally, overstating earnings.

When the discrepancies became significant in 2023, the RBI intervened, and asked for an internal review. By March 2024, the RBI had banned internal derivatives trading by banks. The RBI had hired EY and PwC to investigate the matter, however, neither of the two managed to make any headway in the matter. In February 2025, a team of the RBI investigated the matter and identified the derivative losses.

Meanwhile, the RBI sources have said derivative and MFI-related losses would wipe out IndusInd's fourth quarter profits, and the bank might even show a minor loss during the quarter. The derivative loss of ₹1,960 crore would be reflected in the fourth quarter financial statements of the bank. Additionally, the bank will have to provide for ₹320-odd crore for NPAs in the microfinance loan book. "In a normal situation, the bank might have posted ₹1,800 crore in profit, but given derivative losses and the provision for MFI loan book, the bank would post a small loss in the fourth quarter," sources told TNIE. The sources, however, said there is no major cause of concern as the bank is adequately capitalised, and that issue would be resolved with the fourth quarter results.

A report by Grant Thronton -- fixing accountability of the people responsible for the mess -- has been submitted to the board. Sources said the RBI had asked Grant Thronton to put the people involved in the case in three baskets -- those who were aware of the practice and had the power to stop it but did not; people who were capable of stopping it but chose to remain silent, and those who were mere bystanders. Meanwhile, RBI has said it is not considering any regulatory changes due to IndusInd Bank. "We would not be punishing others for someone else's ingenuity," said an RBI source.

Had 'fruitful' talks with US authorities: Commerce Min

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

THE Ministry of Commerce has said the trade delegation that visited the US had a fruitful meeting with the authorities there, and that the team discussed the pathway for early conclusion of the Bilateral Trade Agreement (BTA).

A team of 3-4 negotiators led by Rajesh Agarwal, secretary-designate, commerce ministry, had visited the US from April 23 -25 for expediting BTA talks. As per the ministry, during the meetings in Washington DC, the team had fruitful discussions on wide ranging subjects covering tariff and non-tariff matters.

"The team discussed the pathway for concluding the first tranche of the mutually beneficial, multi-sector BTA by fall of 2025, including through opportunities for early mutual wins," said a statement issued by the ministry.

While sectoral expert level engagements have taken place via virtual format, in-person sectoral engagements are planned from May-end. The two countries will start chapter-wise talks under the BTA only in the second half of May. "The texts and contours of those discussions are being prepared currently," Ministry officials told TNIE.

Both the countries have signed the terms of reference for the BTA. The ministry said the productive discussions are part of bilateral efforts in line with Leaders' Statement of February 2025 to enhance and expand India-US economic ties and supply chain integration through the BTA.

Earlier, assistant US trade representative for South and Central Asia Brendan Lynch was in India from March 25-29 for trade discussions with Indian officials. The Indian side is hopeful that it would be able to complete the first tranche of BTA talks ahead of the September-October deadline.

"The September–October timeline is a deadline, not a target. If negotiations can be concluded earlier, it will benefit both countries. We are aiming to accelerate talks to avoid any adverse outcomes when the pause ends," the ministry official had told TNIE.

India hopeful of completing talks ahead of deadline

The Indian side is hopeful that it would be able to complete the first tranche of Bilateral Trade Agreement talks ahead of the September-October deadline to take benefit of the 90-day exemption given by the US from levying reciprocal tariffs.

CHINA

SHRUGS OFF US TARIFF THREAT

Chinese leaders are downplaying the potential impact from imposition of tariffs by US President Donald Trump, saying they have the capacity to protect jobs and limit damage from higher tariffs on Chinese exports. The briefing Monday by senior officials of different government ministries appeared aimed at shoring up confidence with promises of support for companies and the unemployed, easier lending conditions and other policies to counter the impact of combined tariffs of up to 145% on US imports from China. It followed a meeting of China's Politburo last week that analysts said had focused on ways to counter keep growth on track despite slowing exports. Uncertainty persists over the status of exchanges, if any, between the White House and Chinese leader Xi Jinping. Trump said last week that he's actively negotiating with the Chinese government.

JAPAN

BOJ TO KEEP RATES STEADY, WARNS OF US TARIFF RISKS

The Bank of Japan (BOJ) is expected to keep interest rates steady on Thursday (May 1) and warns of heightening risks to the economy that could keep policy in a holding pattern, as US tariffs continue to hit confidence. The debate may be swayed by what BOJ Governor Kazuo Ueda heard in Washington last week, where the IMF slashed its global growth forecasts and policymakers fret about further damage to their economies from US trade policy. Speaking after a meeting with counterparts from G20 major economies, Ueda said the BOJ will continue to raise interest rates - on condition the economy sustains a moderate recovery and keeps underlying inflation on track to hit its 2% target. While the BOJ is set to downgrade its growth forecasts, it is expected to signal that risks from US tariffs won't derail wages and price hikes seen as crucial for rate increases.

SOUTH KOREA

IMF REVISES GDP FORECAST AMID ECONOMIC PRESSURES

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) has cut South Korea's 2025 growth projection to 1%, down from an earlier 2%. The global fund has also revised the country's per capita GDP forecast amid economic challenges. Its economic prospects are under strain, with the IMF now expecting per capita GDP to drop to $34,642 in 2025, a 4.1% fall from the prior year. The timeline for achieving a $40,000 per capita GDP has been delayed to 2029, impacted by a weaker won against the US dollar. While South Korea is still predicted to outpace Japan's per capita GDP through 2030, Taiwan might overtake it as soon as 2026. These shifts emphasize the economic pressures on South Korea, raising questions about its resilience amid changing global currency and market dynamics. The adjusted forecasts for South Korea suggest a delicate period ahead, where currency fluctuations and slower growth could affect market sentiments in Asia.

US plans to reduce tariffs on foreign auto components

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IN what could turn out to be a positive development for India's auto component companies, the US is planning to reduce the impact of its tariffs on American carmakers by easing some duties on foreign vehicle parts.

"President Trump is building an important partnership with both the domestic automakers and our great American workers," US Commerce Secretary, Howard Lutnick, said in a statement provided by the White House.

"This deal is a major victory for the president's trade policy by rewarding companies who manufacture domestically, while providing runway to manufacturers who have expressed their commitment to invest in America and expand their domestic manufacturing," added Lutnick. Following the announcement, shares of auto component makers with major exposure to the US market such as Samvardhana Motherson International (SAMIL), Sona BLW Precision Forgings (Sona Comstar), and Bharat Forge rose by up to 5% on Tuesday. An industry executive told TNIE they are waiting for further clarity. "While initial reports suggest relief, we will have to wait and see what actual measures the Trump administration takes," the executive said.

As per reports, carmakers with facilities in the US may secure partial reimbursement for tariffs on imported auto parts, based on the value of their US production. However, vehicles manufactured outside the US may still face 25% tariffs. Some reports stated that 25% tariff on auto parts that are expected by May 3 is still scheduled to take effect.

Earlier this week, credit rating agency ICRA estimated that Indian auto component exporters could face an earnings hit of ₹2,700-₹4,500 crore due to steep US tariffs on key automotive parts.

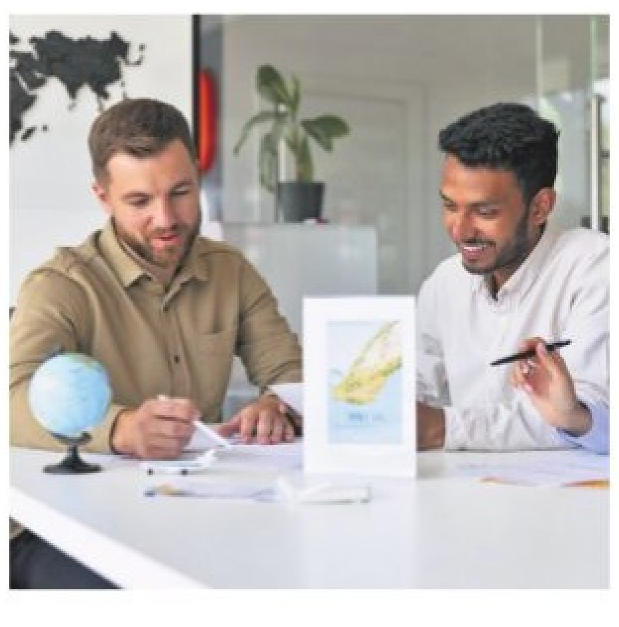
The 25% tariff on engines, transmissions, electrical components, and other auto parts may slow down the industry's revenue growth to 6-8% in FY26, down from the earlier projection of 8-10%.

GCCs see 16.4% gender pay gap at senior levels

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

THOUGH the country's Global Capability Centres (GCCs) are growing rapidly and hiring a large number of people, the GCC ecosystem faces a major gender pay gap, as the latest findings from TeamLease indicates a disparity of 16% between male and female employees.

As per the findings, gender pay disparities in this sector are alarmingly pronounced, especially in senior and technical roles where women face significant obstacles to career advancement. A detailed sector-wise analysis reveals inequalities in the BFSI segment, with women earning an average of 26.3% less than their male counterparts. This divide grows further at senior levels, with women experiencing a pay gap of 23.8%.



Major disparity in compensation for tech roles

A major disparity in compensation is evident for tech roles. In the automotive GCCs, tech roles see pay gaps that are, on average, 26.3%. As far as tier-1 and 2 cities are concerned, gender pay gap presents a stark contrast as in tier-1, overall gap is at 20.3%. In tier 2 cities, there is a fall in these gaps, except for tech GCCs, which reflect a 23% disparity

The participation of women in GCCs has seen a dynamic trajectory, with notable growth periods followed by phases of decline and eventual recovery. From 2023 to 2024, GCCs did show a commitment to improve gender diversity, particularly at mid and senior levels, with the percentage in mid-levels growing from 12.12% in 2023 to 13.68% in 2024 and the senior levels witnessing a growth from 8.14% in 2023 to 13.60% in 2024.

Neeti Sharma, CEO of TeamLease Digital, said, "The GCC ecosystem in India presents a powerful opportunity to drive change and inclusivity. While the sector has made considerable progress in elevating women into meaningful roles, the gender pay gap reveals a deeper systemic challenge. Now, it is time for organisations to ensure equity in growth, compensation, and leadership visibility."

In Lifesciences and Healthcare GCCs, the pay gap is 29.5%, with a 23.5% disparity at senior levels, one of the highest across sectors. In contrast, tech GCCs show a better overall gap of 19%.

Infy lays off 195 trainees on failing to clear test

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

IT services company Infosys has again terminated about 195 trainees who failed to clear the internal assessment. With this, over 800 trainees have been dismissed so far since February.

In February, over 400 trainees were laid off from the Mysuru campus. Following which, IT workers union NITES (Nascent Information Technology Employee Senate) demanded a detailed probe report with all supporting documents, including Infosys submissions and the labour department's findings. NITES had demanded an immediate written explanation from the Karnataka labour department as they found no law violation in its inspection at Infosys. Earlier this month, another 240 trainees were terminated after they failed to clear internal assessments. This is the fourth round of exits and sources told TNIE that of those impacted, about 250 trainees have enrolled in training programmes through UpGrad and NIIT and about 150 have registered for outplacement services.

These layoffs are coming at a time when IT services companies are witnessing a subdued business environment. Recently, Infosys CEO Salil Parekh at the earnings conference said that the company has a rigorous way to test individuals.

He said the company has supported them (laid off trainees) and that made sure they have other opportunities sometimes within Infosys and also outside so as to make sure that "we do everything to get them ready and be at the standard that Infosys has kept." On April 18, NITES had submitted a second complaint with the Ministry of Skill Development and Entrepreneurship against layoffs of trainees.

Akshaya Tritiya: Analysts caution investors as gold looks overpriced

BENN KOCHUVEEDAN @ Mumbai

AHEAD of Akshaya Tritiya, the day traditionally many Indians consider auspicious for buying gold, analysts have advised investors/households, to be cautious as they expect gold prices to go down.

As per them, the improving global macro-environment with the US-China trade tension ebbing and the resultant tailwinds for other asset classes may bring down demand for the safe-haven asset.

The metal has been witnessing continuous rally so far this fiscal, gaining over 30% YTD. The metal had crossed the psychological mark of ₹1,00,000/10 grams or $3,500/ounce (one ounce is 28.35 grams) last week. Since then the prices have fallen to $3,325/ounce by Tuesday evening on the CME.

Indian households own over 25,000 tonne of gold in jewellery form and a few temples, especially those in the South, own another 5,000 tonne. As per Smallcase, gold price is set to range between a 7% decline and a 3% gain this year, saying data indicate a potential for 3-7% increase in gold prices by 2026 Akshaya Tritiya.

Positives and negatives for gold prices

There are both positives and negatives for gold prices at this juncture. Mixed economic data, tariff wars, higher inflation expectations, slowing growth, rate cut hopes, geo-political tension, concerns, fall in US yields could act as tailwinds for prices

Offering a price comparison on the Akshaya Tritiya days in the past 10 years, Pankaj Singh, manager at Smallcase, said gold price has increased by 166.79% in past 10 years.

Gold was at ₹26,800 (-7%) in April 2015's Akshaya Tritiya, which rose 10% in the same day in May of 2016 to ₹29,600, declined 2% in April 2017 to ₹29,100; rose 6.5% in April 2018 to ₹31,000, gained 5.5% in May 2019 to ₹32,700, rallied 41% in April 2020 to 46,000; added 4.1% in May 2021 to ₹47,900 and in April 2025 at ₹96000 or 34% YoY gain.

Many analysts are expecting a steep correction in prices to the tune of 7-10% from the present levels —gold was trading ₹4,000 less than the historic peak last week when it along with GST crossed ₹1,06,000 mark. Brokerage Motilal Oswal has given a ₹1,06,000 target for the medium to long term for the metal and has given a buy call on dips. "Technically, from medium to long term perspective we see support near ₹90,000-91,000, and resistance near ₹99,000/10 grams."

Maha Kumbh, Thums Up boost Coca-Cola sales

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

COCA-COLA has reported a 2% rise in global sales volume for the first quarter of 2025, attributing part of this growth to large-scale activations during India's Maha Kumbh Mela, where it sold over 180 million beverage servings.

It highlighted India, China, and Brazil as key drivers of its quarterly performance, with India's Thums Up brand fuelling double-digit volume growth in the market.

During the Kumbh Coca-Cola deployed an extensive network of refreshment zones, 1,400 mobile stations, and a record-breaking 100-cooler-door wall. These efforts contributed to the 180 million servings sold, positioning India as a critical growth hub. In China, Lunar New Year campaigns featuring Coca-Cola, Sprite, and Minute Maid, alongside affordability initiatives and improved retail execution, supported high single-digit volume growth.

Rana fifer hands India 15-run win vs SA

Off-spinner Sneh Rana grabbed her maiden five-for as Indian women beat South Africa by 15 runs to notch up their second successive win in the ODI tri-series here on Tuesday. Earlier, rising star Pratika Rawal's 78 and handy contributions from skipper Harmanpreet Kaur (41) and Jemimah Rodrigues (41) took India to a healthy 276/6.

PRABHSIMRAN TO THE FORE

Kings opener has been consistent in giving explosive starts at the top over the last 3 years

CHANDRA PRABHU @Chennai

PRABHSIMRAN Singh is the kind of batter whose kamikaze style of hitting will attract bouquets and brickbats in equal measure. He has had the odd big innings (like the century against Delhi Capitals in 2023) but his instinct is to give the team rapid starts. So, an automatic byproduct of that is a low average but a healthy strike rate. It kind of reflects in the stats. He's one of the very few openers to have struck at over 150 since the beginning of the 2023 edition.

It kind of explains why Ricky Ponting wanted to retain the uncapped opener. With a batter like him, there was always potential to raise the ceiling as well as the floor at a fraction of the cost. This year, he has improved by leaps and bounds. He's not only averaging eight more runs per innings (32 as compared to 24) but he's doing it while scoring 17 more runs per every 100 balls faced (168.7 as opposed to 151.8).

In nine fixtures this season, he has amassed 292 runs, only 60 shy of his best outing of 358 runs (IPL 2023). Those runs have been spread out. Five scores of 30 or above in the first nine matches is reflective of that. Speaking on a Star Sports Press Room on the eve of Wednesday's encounter at the MA Chidambaram Stadium, the 24-year-old said what he had to improve on. "I'm gaining experience," he said. "With that, game awareness keeps increasing. When your position is cemented in the team, you start thinking about contributing for a win, be it run-making and keeping the wickets."

Like most modern openers going around in this format, he's actively encouraged to take risks. "That reward being a team win is what I take risks for," he said. "If it goes the other way, then I take accountability for it," he added. Even if Ponting and he have exchanged lot of words over the last few months, he went back to the words the Australian great had for him post his century against the Ponting-coached Delhi in 2023. "After I scored a ton against Delhi in 2023, he had told me how I have a good future," he remembered. "I also remember the message he had sent after retaining me before the mega auction. That way I'm happy that the franchise has repaid its faith on me," he added.

When he was asked about Ponting's so-called 'golf-swing' approach to batting, the keeper said: "In my initial days of T20 cricket, I was particular on getting a good strike rate in the powerplay. But It's all about capitalising on the poor balls, trying to protect your wicket and contributing to wins," he added. The new-look franchise, according to Prabhsimran, is a 'different beast.' With Shreyas Iyer leading the team, he believes that they has the ingredients for a title-winning side. "You can say that this year, we are playing very different cricket. And I feel that we are dominating most of the time," he added.

One of the reasons why they are dominating from the off is thanks to Prabhsimran's association with Priyansh Arya. He revealed the kind of conversations they have, on and off the field. "He tends to assure me that he'll take care of the pressure in few matches." Sometime after the lights take full effect at Chepauk, Prabhsimran will walk out to bat with the express purpose of flaying the brand new ball to all parts. It's what he's paid to do. In 2025, he's excelling at it.

Chennai look for solace, Punjab a place in top four

PUNJAB KINGS CAN TAKE ANOTHER DECISIVE STEP TOWARDS THE KNOCKOUTS WHILE CHENNAI PLAY TO RESTORE SOME PRIDE AFTER LOSING FOUR ON THE SPIN AT HOME. A LOOK...

Hosts' new batting core

Out with the old, in with the new for Chennai. Or so it seems as they have rung in the changes possibly with an eye on next season. With Ayush Mhatre, Shaik Rasheed and Dewald Brevis getting a look in in the next game, can they play a statement innings to ensure their medium-term future at the franchise.

Priyansh v. Khaleel

Khaleel Ahmad has been one of the most impressive bowlers in the powerplay. His contest with Priyansh Arya, centurion the last time these two teams met, could be key. Arya is a powerplay basher and Punjab have done well every time their southpaw has given them rapid starts.

186 Out of Arya's 228 runs in the powerplay, 186 have come off boundaries (27 4s and 13 6s)

Super Kings fight for pride

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

CHENNAI Super Kings' chances of making to the playoffs are practically non-existent as they are at the bottom of the table, eight points off fourth place with just matches to go. As head coach Stephen Fleming said the other day after his team's loss to Hyderabad, they will use the remaining matches to identify opportunities and try young players in order to win and prepare the team for next season. With nothing to lose, the hosts will go all out against Punjab Kings when the two teams clash in the on Wednesday evening at Chepauk. The two sides faced each other a few weeks ago where Punjab won by 18 runs.

CSK has won just one out of their last five matches at home. But Mike Hussey, batting coach, sounded optimistic.

CSK top order has not fired as a unit and in particular they have not been able to put enough runs in the power play, thus putting undue pressure on the middle order.

''Possibly,'' he said when asked about experimentation. "I think the goal is still to try and win all the matches. That is the number one goal. Along the way, if we can give opportunities to players, then that will be very good as well," he said.

''We are already giving opportunities to some new players. Obviously, Shaik Rasheed, Ayush (Mhatre) are getting opportunities. Sam Curran is batting No. 3, so new players are getting opportunities. Lots of thinking, lots of planning, I guess. One, for the rest of this season, but then also for future seasons as well. So, it is exciting. It is exciting for different players to get opportunities. But as I said, still the main focus is to try and win all the matches. That is our number one goal.

''It has been disappointing in that front that we have not been able to fire as much as we would have liked. I have to really take my hat off to those guys both Rachin (Ravindra) and (Deepak) Hooda. Their attitude has been first-class. Obviously disappointed to be in and out of the team. But they could have easily complained and moaned and just not been interested for the rest of the season. But their attitude towards training and improving has been unbelievable.''

''Rachin has spoken a lot about how he had a choice. He could either just be angry and grumpy about not getting, left out of the team or he could use this last three or four weeks or whatever it is to improve his game, work on some new shots. If he gets to play again, then fantastic. If he does not, then he still wants to use this time to improve his game. Again, it speaks volumes of his character. I have been really impressed because it has been a difficult season in that front, unlike CSK to change so much.''

Sudirman Cup: India crash out

PTI @ Xiamen (China)

STRUGGLING singles stars PV Sindhu and HS Prannoy disappointed again as India crashed out of the BWF Sudirman Cup Finals after conceding an unassailable 1-3 lead to Indonesia in a group D match on Tuesday.

Having lost to Denmark 1-4 in their opening match on Sunday, India needed to win Tuesday's contest to stay alive in the race for the knockout stage. The defeat has rendered India's last group match against England — who also made an exit from the tournament—inconsequential.

Indonesia, who had beaten England 5-0 on Sunday, and Denmark made it to the knockout round after winning two matches on the trot. Denmark prevailed over England 5-0 on Tuesday.

With only two teams progressing from the group to the knock-out round, it was a must-win match for India but they were outclassed by their more fancied opponents.

India made a winning start with the mixed doubles pair of Dhruv Kapila and Tanisha Crasto 21-18, 21-19 in a gruelling match that lasted one hour and 10 minutes.

INTER'S DEFENCE VS BARCA ATTACK

THE FIRST-LEG OF THE OTHER CHAMPIONS LEAGUE SEMIFINAL PROMISES THRILLS BUT PLENTY OF INTRIGUE AS WELL. BOTH INTER AND BARCELONA WILL FANCY THEIR CHANCES OF ADVANCING TO THE FINAL BECAUSE OF DIFFERENT REASONS. A LOOK...

A POTENT FORWARD LINE

Barcelona's front three of Lamine Yamal, Robert Lewandowski and Raphinha have scored for this year. They have by themselves accounted for 27 goals in Europe. Even if Lewandowski is down with an injury and will miss the first leg, they can call upon the likes of Ferran Torres. They can all interchange and move at devastating pace, while both Yamal and Raphinha have multiple ways to hurt opponents. The latter, especially, will be one to keep an eye on.

19 Raphinha has 19 goal involvements (12 goals and seven assists) in the Champions League.

INTER'S DEFENSIVE WALL

If Barcelona's are the tournament's unstoppable force, Inter are the competition's immovable object. The Serie A side have only conceded five goals all season. They play with three at the back and have an amazing engine room in the middle of midfield. It's what makes them tough to play through them. Considering they also have two wing backs on either side, it's a unit that does both facets of the game — defending as well as attacking — with a minimum of fuss.

8 Inter have kept eight clean sheets in Europe this season from 12 games

Clinical Knight Riders get back to winning ways

AGENCIES @New Delhi

KOLKATA Knight Riders' top-order gave them a blazing start but the middle order failed to capitalise on it as they posted 204 for nine against Delhi Capitals in an IPL match here on Tuesday. In reply, DC came close to chasing down the target but fell short by 14 runs.

DC opener Faf du Plessis set the tone with a 45-ball 62, but he had little support from the other end. Axar Patel did his bid with a quickfire 43 from 23 balls but once they both fell, it all came down crashing. In the end, Vipraj Nigam's late effort was not enough.

Earlier, KKR got off to a flying start as Sunil Narine (27) and Rahmanullah Gurbaz (26) put on the team's highest opening stand of the season — 48 runs off just 17 balls — after DC skipper Axar Patel (2/27) won the toss and opted to bowl. However, the defending champions faltered in the middle overs and managed 45 runs in the last five overs as DC pulled back things in the death overs. Narine took the attack to Dushmantha Chameera (1/46), smashing him for 25 runs in an over that included two sixes — one of them a one-handed slog over midwicket — and a four. Gurbaz then took on Mitchell Starc before edging to Abhishek Porel in the third over, ending the opening stand. Skipper Ajinkya Rahane (26) continued the momentum to take KKR to 79/1 at the end of the powerplay.

However, KKR stuttered in the middle overs as DC spinners struck back. Young Angkrish Raghuvanshi (44) steadied the innings with Rinku Singh (36), the duo adding 61 runs off 46 balls.

Brief scores: KKR 204/9 in 20 ovs (Angkrish 44, Rinku 36; Starc 3/43, Axar 2/27) bt DC (Du Plessis 62, Axar 43, Vipraj 38; Narine 3/29, Varun 2/39).

Young sailor looks for high tide as coach Eabad speaks of promise among youth

CHANDRA PRABHU @Chennai

THERE has been a sprinkling of participation at the SAIL GOA 2025. The sport of sailing is slowly emerging from the shadows of other more illustrious Olympic sports but a lot needs to be done before it turns out to be a popular sport. But that has not deterred some young sailors to try their hand in this niche water sport.

Coach Eabad Ali has been keenly following the fortunes of youngsters in windsurfing. The coach-cum-sailor is the first to win a medal at the 2022 Hangzhou Asian Games in this new Olympic discipline — iQFOiL. This was introduced at the Paris Olympic last year, replacing RS:X vessel as well. Eabad has been one of the exponents in this sport that has started to take shape in India. He pointed out that there has to be more participation and awareness sailing in general and windsurfing with iQFOiL in particular, but there is a bunch of young sailors who are making a mark nationally.

Eabad pointed out that Udaiveer Singh Johal stood out in the age group competition and was by far the most promising among the young sailors the country has seen in his age. "He has taken upon children much older than him and is already set eyes on the Olympics," said Eabad, who coaches Udaiveer as well. "His curiosity and passion will take him places," said Eabad.

Sailing is not new to Udaiveer. In fact one can safely say it runs in the family. It was a time during the COVID-19 pandemic when everything was shut in Chandigarh and owing to a change in his posting in the army, former India Olympic sailor Nachhatar Singh Johal and his family had shifted to Mumbai.

Four years later, Udaiveer is creating ripples in windsurfing. He is the national champion in U-13 category for consecutive years (2023 & 2024). Aged just 11 years and six months, he has taken Dona Paula by storm winning the U-15 T-293 competition at the recently-held SAIL GOA 2025.

It all started when Johal senior took him and his brother Adhiraj Singh for a sailing session. "I remember sitting on the rib of the laser standard boat, and fearing the water there. My brother was supposed go for a sail. But I started to have a connect with the water, and the winds," Udaiveer told this daily.

Aged seven then, Udaiveer felt the thrills of sailing and windsurfing. "It's the tides and waves that pulled me into sailing, although it was by watching my father participate in the Olympics that is inspiring me to win medals for the country soon," he added.

Initially practising with an Optimist sailboat, which is a common sight in Dinghy, he switched to Windsurfing with a Techno 293 board. "It was Eabad sir and Manish (Raja) sir who helped me make the switch to this board and it has been fun," he said.

After dominating the age-group categories in the national levels, Udaiveer has set his eyes on qualifying for the Asian Games in 2026. "I will be switching to iQFOiL by the end of the year, and I'd be working hard in Thailand to equip myself," he concluded.

'More awareness will help'

Though the coach has spoken highly about the new string of players, he rued lack of awareness and minimal institutional support for the Olympic discipline of sailing may put them on the back foot. Windsurfing has been in most of the conversations in the sailing scene had spoken how the upcoming windsurfers have shown sparks of talent. "These kids have done well, at national level, all thanks to their early exposure to the sport. I, for one, got to know about windsurfing at a much later period(21 years)," Eabad said. This is in reference to the national level SAIL GOA 2025 tournament. "It is important that schools should acknowledge sailing as a sport. People need to be educated about sailing and its existence as a sport," said Ali. Only three participants took part in the T-293 category in both U-15 Boys and Girls' Division. The senior and Olympic standard iQFOiL also saw a low participation in senior category. Costs of equipments could be a major deterrent, he felt. The coach hopes more government and private sector support will help the sport grow.

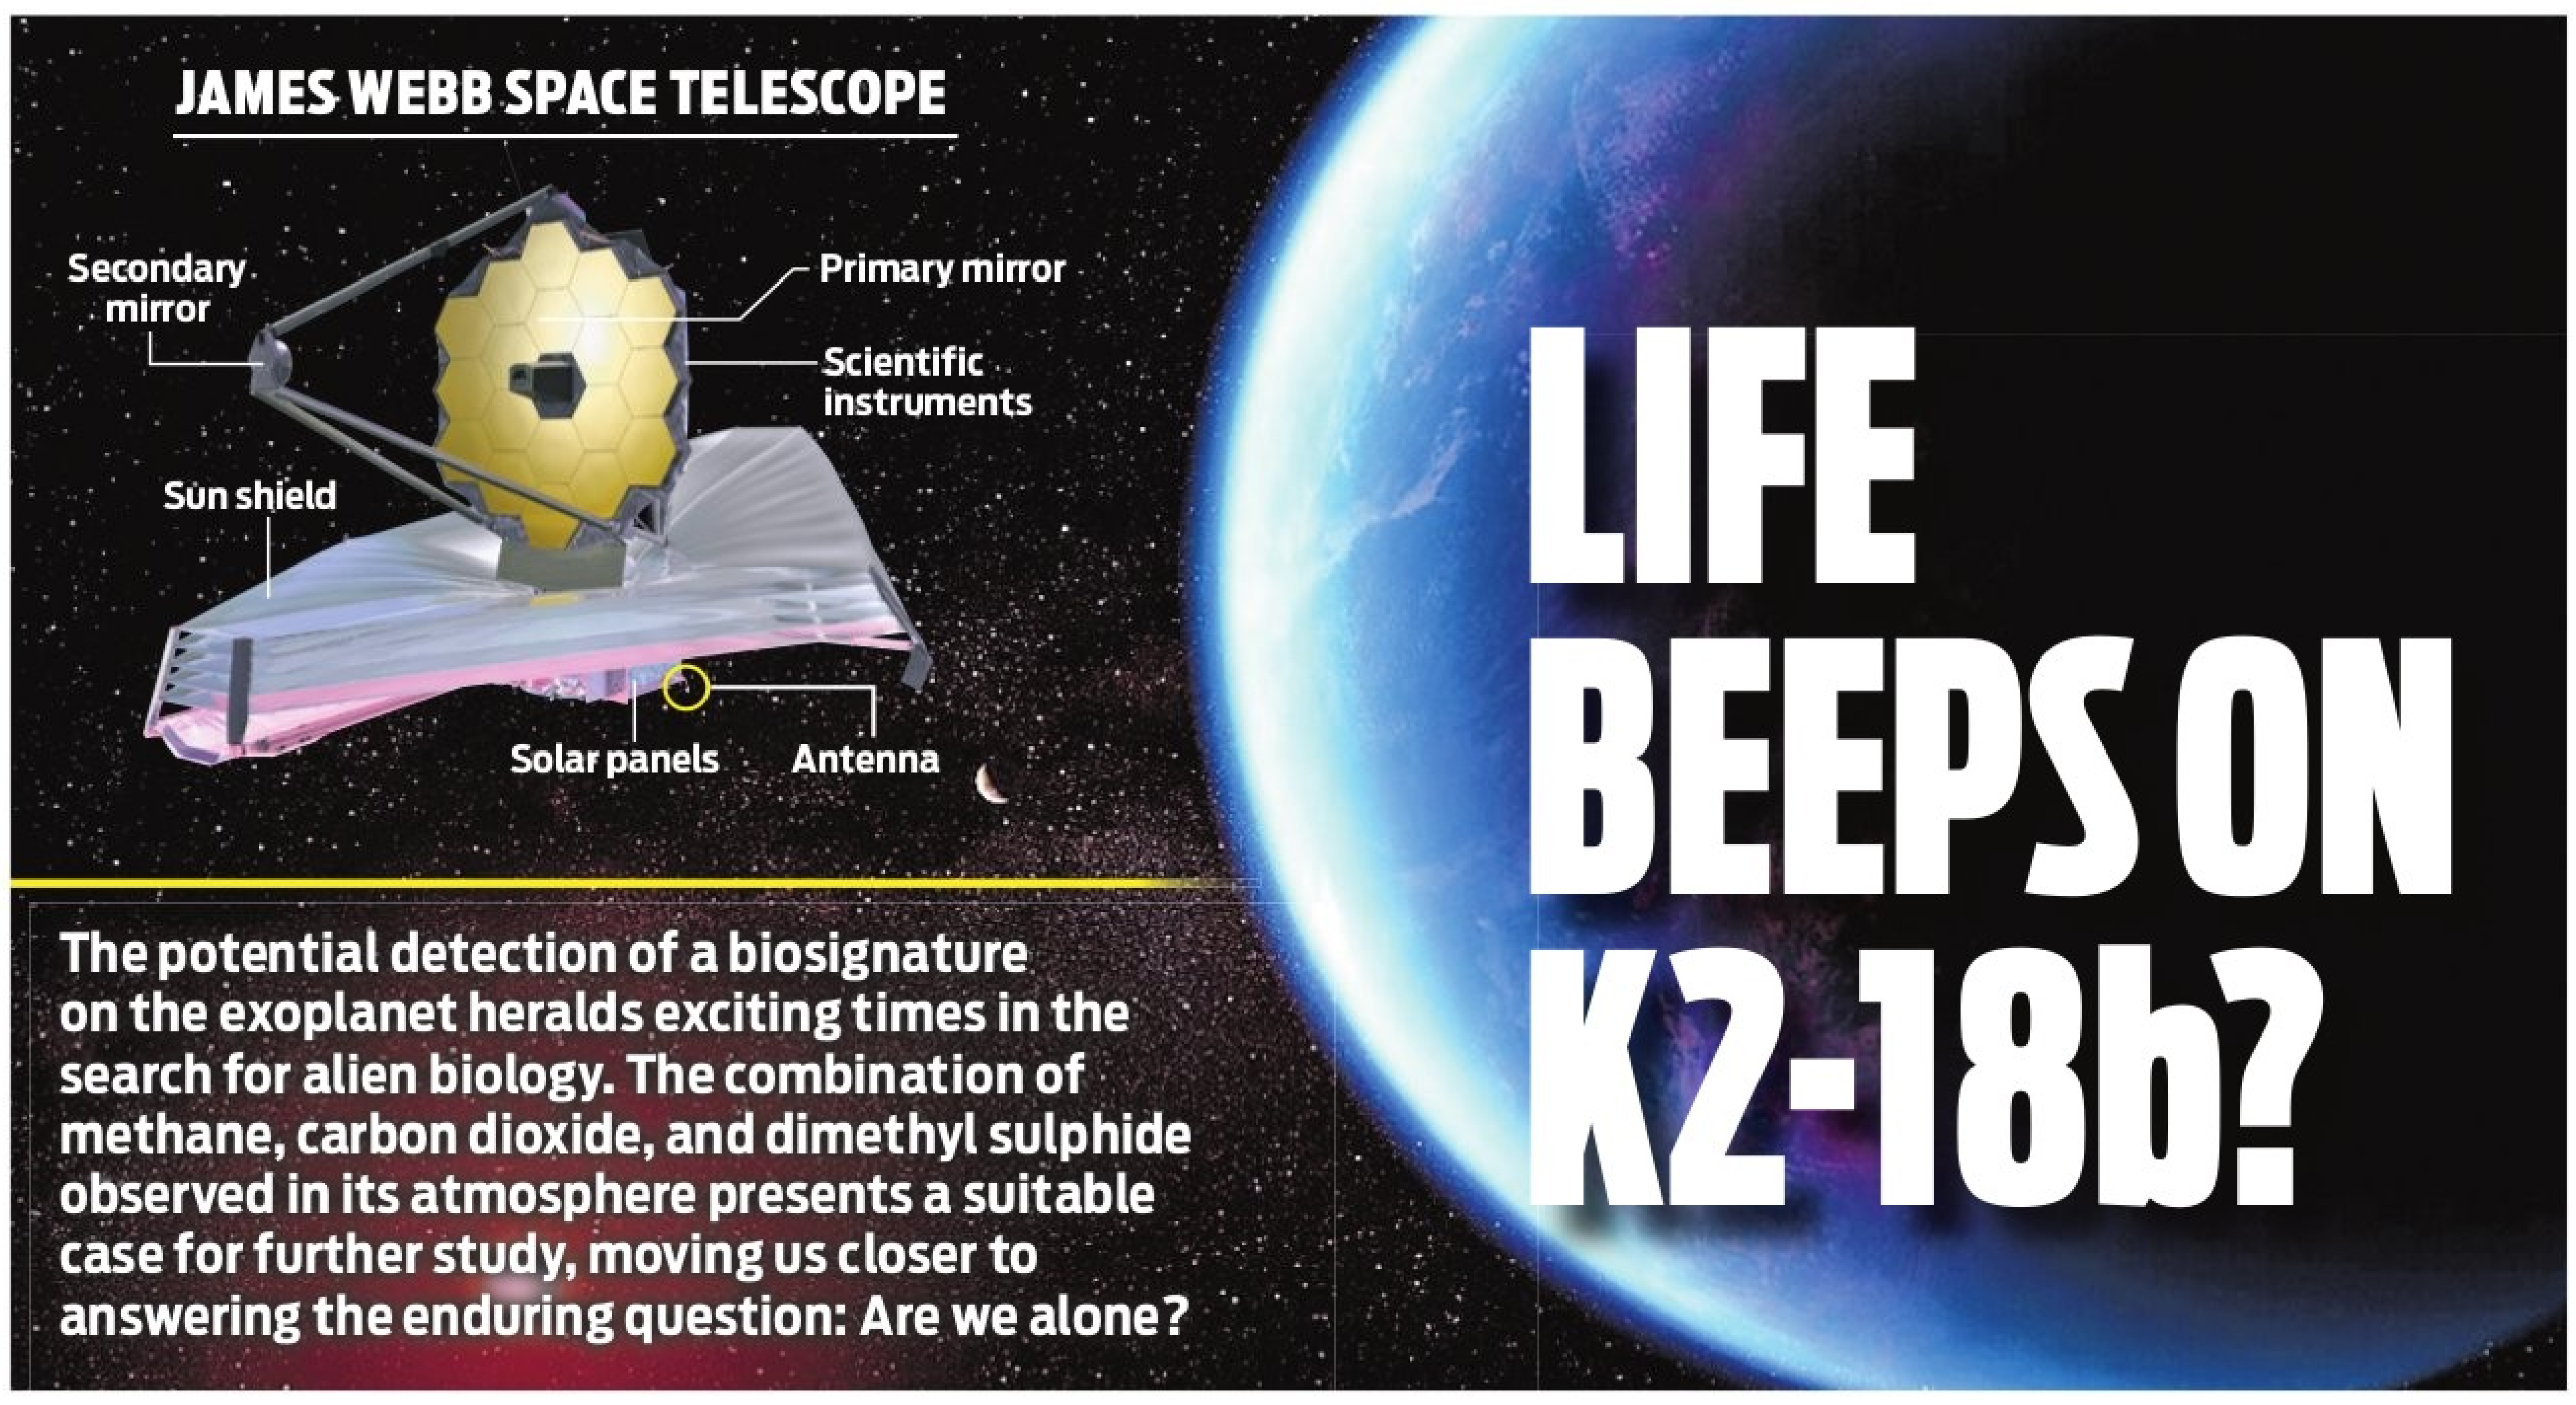
DID YOU KNOW?
Due to the lack of gravity in space, burps do not have the same properties as on Earth, and hence cannot be produced.



LIFE BEEPS ON K2-18b?

The potential detection of a biosignature on the exoplanet heralds exciting times in the search for alien biology. The combination of methane, carbon dioxide, and dimethyl sulphide observed in its atmosphere presents a suitable case for further study, moving us closer to answering the enduring question: Are we alone?

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE

As Carl Sagan's landmark quote reads, when he describes the 'Pale Blue Dot': "The Earth is the only world known to harbour life," our planet within the Solar System, tucked in a minute corner of the Milky Way, is currently the only known habitable source of life of any kind anywhere in the universe. However, the observable universe stretches 93.016 billion light years across, and is stretching further at lightspeed even before you finish reading this sentence. That's a lot of universe, space, and celestial bodies to consider at scale, let alone to gauge the latter's propensity to contain life. And humans are still far behind in terms of technology that could carry them farther than the Moon, in record time, in order to gather tangible evidence of life beyond Earth.

To create life, a combination of essential ingredients is necessary: liquid water, a source of energy, and organic molecules, particularly carbon-based ones. These molecules, along with other key elements like hydrogen, oxygen, nitrogen, phosphorus, and sulphur, form the building blocks of life. Additionally, a stable environment conducive to chemical reactions and the emergence of self-replicating systems is crucial. Similar factors culminated to trigger life on Earth, at least 3.8 billion years ago.

The search for extraterrestrial life has long been a cornerstone of modern astronomy, pushing the boundaries of our understanding of the cosmos. One of the most promising leads in this pursuit emerged with the discovery of the exoplanet K2-18b. Located approximately 124 light years from Earth in the constellation Leo, this planet orbits within the habitable zone of a red dwarf star and has become the subject of intense scientific investigation. In recent years, particularly with data from the James Webb Space Telescope (JWST), K2-18b has captured global attention due to the detection of potential biosignatures in its atmosphere. Meanwhile, more interesting observations were made this month.

"Using data from JWST, the astronomers, led by the University of Cambridge, have detected the chemical fingerprints of dimethyl sulphide (DMS) and/or dimethyl disulphide (DMDS), in the atmosphere of the exoplanet K2-18b, which orbits its star in the habitable zone," the university mentioned on its website.

According to Prof Nikku Madhusudhan of the Institute of Astronomy, University of Cambridge, "We found the strongest evidence to date of possible biological activity on an exoplanet. DMS is very important, because here on Earth it's produced uniquely by life."

On Earth, DMS and DMDS are only produced by life, primarily microbial life such as marine phytoplankton. While an unknown chemical process may be the source of these molecules in K2-18b's atmosphere, the results are the strongest evidence yet that life may exist on a planet outside the Solar System. "Theoretical studies had predicted, for the last two decades, that molecules like DMS could be very robust biomarkers on exoplanetary systems, including hydrogen-rich worlds," Prof Madhusudhan explained in a video on the university's website.

Larger than Earth, smaller than Neptune

K2-18b is a 'Hycean world' – a planet with a hydrogen-rich atmosphere and a surface potentially covered in vast oceans. These worlds are larger than Earth, but smaller than Neptune, and have conditions that could support microbial life, especially in their water bodies. K2-18b is estimated to be about 8.6 times the mass of Earth, and roughly 2.6 times its radii. Despite orbiting a relatively dim M-dwarf star, K2-18b receives similar levels of radiation to Earth due to its closer orbit, placing it in what scientists consider the 'habitable zone'.

What makes Hycean planets such as K2-18b particularly intriguing is their potential to sustain life in ways quite different from Earth. While terrestrial life is tied to oxygen and nitrogen atmospheres, Hycean worlds may support life forms adapted to different chemical environments, broadening the criteria for habitability.

In late 2023 and early 2024, astronomers used JWST's Near Infrared Spectrograph (NIRSpec) and Mid-Infrared Instrument (MIRI) to study K2-18b's atmosphere during planetary transits – when the planet passes in front of its star from Earth's perspective. These observations allowed researchers to analyse how starlight filtered through the planet's atmosphere, revealing its chemical composition.

"The technique used to determine the atmospheric composition of the planet is called transit spectroscopy. You look at the planet as it transits in front of the host star. Some of the starlight goes through the atmosphere of the planet, before entering the telescope, and the molecules in the atmosphere absorb some of the starlight. Therefore, by looking at a differential measurement, when the planet is in front of the star or when it isn't, you can determine how much absorption is happening in the planet's atmosphere," Prof Madhusudhan reiterated.

Discovery of potential biosignatures

One of the most significant findings from the JWST observations was the detection of several molecules in K2-18b's atmosphere: methane, carbon dioxide, and most notably, DMS.

Methane and carbon dioxide are often found in planetary atmospheres and can be produced by both biological and geological processes. However, their relative concentrations and context are essential for interpretation. The detection of DMS, however, is especially compelling. On Earth, DMS is produced almost exclusively by biological processes. It is not known to arise through abiotic mechanisms in significant quantities. Therefore, its presence on K2-18b hints at the possibility of biological activity occurring on or beneath the planet's surface – possibly in a sub-surface ocean.

This trio of molecules presents what scientists call a "biosignature suite" – a combination of atmospheric gases that, when found together, may strongly indicate biological processes. Though still tentative, the presence of DMS alongside methane and carbon dioxide strengthens the case for possible life on K2-18b.

The researchers' observations have reached the 'three-sigma' level of statistical significance – meaning there is a 0.3% probability that they occurred by chance. To reach the accepted classification for scientific discovery, the observations would have to cross the five-sigma threshold, meaning there would be below a 0.00006% probability they occurred by chance.

Despite the excitement, the scientific fraternity urges caution in interpreting these results. The detection of DMS is currently a low-confidence signal, and further observations are required to confirm its presence conclusively. Additionally, abiotic pathways must be considered. For instance, interactions between the planet's mantle and its atmosphere could potentially produce some of the observed gases, although no known process can explain the presence of DMS without biological activity.

However, if future observations, researches and missions confirm the presence of DMS and support the hypothesis that it results from biological activity, it would be one of the most profound discoveries in human history, marking the first strong evidence of life beyond Earth – a life that has evolved in a completely different environment under alien conditions.

DAY'S DIARY

Swearing in

George Washington, on the balcony of Federal Hall on Wall Street in New York, took his oath of office as the first President of the United States

INITIAL SPEECH

Aside from recommending constitutional amendments to satisfy citizens demanding a Bill of Rights, Washington confined his address to generalities

SETTING PRECEDENT

Washington went beyond the constitutional requirement to take an oath of office and established a precedent that has been followed by every president

A SHORT TENURE

Washington enjoyed less than three years of retirement at Mount Vernon, for he died on December 14, 1799. For months the Nation mourned him

BEJEWELLED FESTIVITIES

As it's Akshaya Tritiya today, here are the trends jewellers have observed: the rising popularity of rose and yellow gold, and lab-grown diamonds

A screengrab of Real Cricket

The city is hosting the Global e-Cricket Premier League with Nikhil Kamath-owned team Bengaluru Badgers making its tournament debut

ANUBHAB ROY

MUCH has been written and said about India's obsession with cricket, and nothing could be a better yardstick for it than the current fervour surrounding the Indian Premier League. Until the tournament is over, there is little else that would rouse the nation more, and already, fans have begun counting down to its dreaded culmination. But while superstars play it out on the pitch, another set of players are playing the game – perhaps not the way one might expect. This is the GEPL – the Global e-Cricket Premier League, a tournament that celebrates the sport and its competitive nature virtually. Inviting teams from all over the world, it is being held at Koramangala Indoor Stadium till May 2.

In a country where physical sport itself often takes the backseat to academics, e-sports is an oft-forsaken territory. However, according to home team Bengaluru Badgers' captain, Manmeet Singh, that is changing rapidly. "It's an exciting time to be a part of e-sports. With increasing recognition, it isn't just growing; it's becoming a career path for many. I feel proud to be a part of this shift," he says. This season is set to be GEPL's second, but the first to introduce Bengaluru Badgers, co-owned by Nikhil Kamath (co-founder, Zerodha), Ankit Nagori (founder, Curefoods), and Prashanth Prakash (partner, Accel)

The video game being used for the tournament is Real Cricket, a title that will ring familiar to many mobile players, amateur or professional, across the world. "Real Cricket is incredibly honest-to-life – from player movements and in-game strategies to pitch dynamics and shot selection, it replicates real-world cricket with surprising depth. That realism is what makes it perfect for a league where skill, precision, and game sense matter just as much as in traditional cricket," Singh mentions. Rajan Navani, CEO and founder of JetSynthesis, the company behind GEPL, is equally positive, as he remarks, "With GEPL Season 2, we're expanding the possibilities of how cricket can be experienced in the digital era. With marquee names, fresh ownership, and growing interest, this season is a massive leap forward for Indian e-sports."

Despite the team being a year too late to the party, Singh remains positive. "We're confident. The Bengaluru Badgers have built a well-balanced squad that blends experienced players with young talent. Our team has been practising intensively, focusing on strategy, coordination, and consistency. The momentum is with us, and we're ready to make a mark," he quips.

With the introduction of VFS Global's new CSP Assistance service, applicants now have the option to receive personalised support throughout their visa journey. This service is designed to enhance convenience and ensure a seamless experience."

KNOW YOUR CITY

Arun Prasad, city-based history researcher, unravels interesting facts about Bengaluru in this weekly quiz series. So it's time for you to find out how familiar you are with the city, beyond its heritage buildings, IT parks and the pub culture.

QUIZ WILL BE PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY

Send answers to bengalurucityexpress@gmail.com with the subject line 'Know Your City Quiz' Correct answers and names of first three respondents with right answers will be featured in CE.

1. Bengaluru has an iconic road named after Dr Bhimrao Ambedkar. The road runs between two architectural marvels, one being the British structure Attara Kacheri (which today houses the Karnataka High Court) built in 1868 and the other being an imposing Indian structure (of exquisite Dravidian architecture) built in 1956. Name this iconic building.

2. Post Independence, some of the prominent roads in most Indian cities have been renamed as MG Road after Mahatma Gandhi. One of the iconic roads in Bengaluru, too, was renamed to MG Road on February 26, 1948. The road runs West to East between two historic churches, stretching from St Mark's Cathedral on the Western side and Holy Trinity Church on the Eastern end. What was the name of this road during the British rule: South Parade or East Parade?

3. Kasturba Gandhi, who was a pillar of strength for her husband Mahatma Gandhi and stood by him in all his political fights, died on February 22, 1944. A prominent road connecting Mahatma Gandhi road was renamed as Kasturba Road her memory. What was the road earlier known as, Sydney Road or Museum Road?

LISAA OPEN DAYS 2025 SPARK CREATIVITY, CULTURE & CONVERSATION

'Embrace Creativity and Art for Personal Growth' — The LISAA School of Design recently concluded its three-day Open Days 2025, a vibrant celebration of creativity, innovation, and interdisciplinary collaboration.

On Day One, Marc Lamy, Consul General of France in India, remarked, "The students are not just designing aesthetically pleasing work, but are engaging with ideas that matter — sustainability, social change, and human-centric innovation. It reflects the strong foundation LISAA provides and the vibrant Indo-French collaboration in arts and education."

On Day Two, Dr. Shreya Santra — an aerospace scientist of Indian origin and Senior Assistant Professor at Tohoku University, Japan — said, "Creativity in design and curiosity in science are deeply interconnected. What I witnessed at LISAA was a powerful blend of imagination, empathy, and problem-solving — qualities essential not just in design, but in shaping the future of technology and humanity."

On the final day, celebrated author and heritage writer Kaveri Ponnapa expressed her admiration: "I'm so happy to be here and interact with design students who are so savvy in Fine Arts and creativity."

LISAA Bengaluru Director Girish Keswani shared, "Open Days is more than a showcase; it's a celebration of creative problem-solving, storytelling, and collaboration — the core principles of LISAA's educational philosophy."

Avi Keswani, Director of LISAA School of Design, added, "The event saw active participation from design professionals, educators, aspiring students, and industry leaders — all engaging with our students and faculty to explore their creative processes and inspirations."

FITBIT

BADDHA KONASANA B

(BUTTERFLY POSE B)

The aim of this intense forward fold is to deepen the stretch in the hips, inner thighs, lower back, and upper back while working on flexibility. The pelvic floor muscles are activated and the gluteus is stretched, increasing the range of motion. The navel is actively pushed into the spine, activating the Manipura (Solar Plexus), Swadisthana (Sacral) and Muladhara (Root) Chakras.

STEPS

- Start in Dandasana (Staff Pose), hands by the side. Take a few breaths here.
- Bend your knees and join the soles of your feet. Inhale, hold your ankles. Move the heels towards the groin as much as possible.
- Exhale, allow your knees to fall and open on the sides as in the Baddha Konasana.
- Interlock your fingers around the feet. Make sure your spine is upright. Ground yourself and connect with your breath here.
- Inhale, lengthen your spine and open your chest, creating space between your vertebrae. Exhale, fold forward to reach the top of your head toward the toes.
- Allow your spine to round, and place your head on your feet. Ensure the chin is towards the chest, stretching the back of the neck. Feel the stretch along the neck, shoulders, and inner thighs.
- Engage your core muscles and connect to the feeling that generates with the stretch. Relax your legs and spine, allowing gravity to work with your body weight.
- Remain here for about six breaths or as per capacity, looking down or with eyes closed. The body relaxes with each exhale. Take slow, deep breaths.
- Inhale and return to Baddha Konasana. Stay here for a few breaths. Exhale, use your hands to draw your knees together and extend your legs forward in Dandasana.
- Finally, relax in Staff Pose Hands Back Knees Bent.

BENEFITS

- Stretches inner thighs, hips, and upper, middle, lower back, groin, neck, and shoulders.
- Elongates the back of the neck and rounds the spine.
- Increases spinal flexibility and enhances natural vertebral space.
- Alleviates tension and tightness in the back muscles, shoulders, neck, and hips.
- Stimulates the reproductive organs.
- Activates the parasympathetic nervous system, promoting a sense of calmness.
- Brings a fresh flow of blood to the brain and diaphragm.
- Stimulates various internal organs, helping betterment of digestion.
- Helps people with sciatica and athletes.
- Calms stress hormones, bringing balance in both the physical and emotional body.
- Makes ligaments, fascia, and tendons stronger.
- Helps women during pregnancy, menstruation and menopause phase.

LIMITATIONS

- Students with any recent injuries or surgeries, history with fibromyalgia, arthritis, or pain at joints and bones, those with severe lower back pain should avoid this.
- Those with issues related to vertigo, BP, insomnia, back pain, hernia, and asthma, should take extra care.
- People with sciatica can use a blanket below the hips.
- Can be practised supporting the head and arms with a bolster.

GROWING PAINS, GROWING GAINS

Radhika Timbadia, the owner of Champaca Bookstore which recently opened a new branch in Indiranagar, reflects on navigating ups and downs

BENGALURU boasts of a thriving literary scene, producing a lot of the country's best fiction with a network of bookstores and reading culture that enables this. While many of the city's biggest bookstores are decades old, a small store has quietly made its way into the conversations of the city's ever-bustling readership: Champaca Bookstore. As the city becomes familiar with the recently-opened Indiranagar branch, owner Radhika Timbadia reveals that the idea of another Bengaluru outlet was two years in the making.

Over the last six years, the cul-de-sac nook in Vasanth Nagar has become a quintessential part of the store's appeal. As Timbadia explains, the decision to expand was born from logistical drawbacks. "We've had people struggle to come to our store and find parking. Being well-connected and close to a metro station, Indiranagar was a good option. We also wanted a slightly bigger space than our current 900 sqft one where we could display all our books," she notes.

In contrast to more established bookstores where the availability of everything and anything is almost promised, Champaca has tried to prioritise quality over quantity. "We would like people to discover diverse authors, from different places, of different genders and having different stories. But along with diversity comes a strong idea of books that are also well-written," explains Timbadia, adding, "We're quite excited to make our history section more interesting. We have a special micro-history section, and will have changing displays for different topics as we go ahead."

Not all of the journey has been sweet, with the Goa store, which opened just months ago, currently on a temporary hiatus, being located in Asagao and dependent on the tourist population. However, the greatest threat was at the very inception of the first store. "Our biggest period of adversity was early on. We had just been open for about 10 months and the pandemic hit. There were just three of us running the store for two years. We didn't know if we'd survive it," she confesses.

Timbadia, hopeful of the community that has organically grown around Champaca, refrains from complacency, fully aware of the challenges of running an independent operation. "We are still quite a small independent bookstore. Our new space is shared with three other brands, because as a bookstore, we still cannot afford steep rent. So I don't know if we have made it," she admits. Still, the team is committed to upholding an equitable reading culture. "It's not enough to have a diverse curation, we also need to talk about it. So we constantly organise free conversations. We have always encouraged people to read," Timbadia asserts.

Kavya Shaiva and Pruthvi Ambaar

Sriraj

Pushpa and Arunkumar

YASH IS A STAR, BUT I AM YET TO MAKE MY MARK: PUSHPA ARUNKUMAR

Rocking Star Yash's mother, Pushpa Arunkumar, makes her debut as a film producer with Kothalavadi, aiming to support fresh talent and powerful storytelling

A SHARADHAA

SRIRAJ'S directorial debut, Kothalavadi, is grabbing attention for all the right reasons. The film stars Pruthvi Ambaar in the lead and marks the silver screen debut of television actor Kavya Shaiva. It also features a strong supporting cast, including Gopal Krishna Deshpande, Rajesh Nataranga, Avinash, and Manasi Sudhir. With filming now complete, the team has officially announced the film's title, cast, and crew—drawing widespread attention not only for its content but also for its noteworthy backing. Kothalavadi is produced by Pushpa Arunkumar, who is making her foray into cinema as a producer under the banner PA Productions. Notably, she is the mother of one of India's most sought-after actors—Yash.

In an exclusive interaction with CE, director Sriraj and producer Pushpa Arunkumar opened up about their maiden venture. A self-proclaimed fan of legendary actor Dr Rajkumar and deeply inspired by the legacy of iconic producer Parvathamma Rajkumar, Pushpa expressed her desire to follow in their footsteps. "Their contribution to Kannada cinema is immense. I've always admired how Parvathamma brought meaningful, novel-based stories to life. I want to take a cue from that legacy," she shared.

A vision beyond stardom

Passionate, grounded, and fiercely independent, Pushpa Arunkumar opens up about her cinematic vision—beyond being just superstar Yash's mother. "Driver's son Yash is a hero, a star today—but what is my achievement?" asks Pushpa Arunkumar in this conversation about her maiden production. "Despite Yash being one of the top stars in India, I always wanted my own individuality—an achievement that's mine. I want to give back to the industry and encourage new talent," she says earnestly about her debut production Kothalavadi.

"My son is doing well, he's rising. But my intention has always been to do something meaningful for cinema. We're just waiting to see how the audience receives us—because in the end, it's up to them. If they accept the story, only then does it matter."

Speaking about Dr Rajkumar and Parvathamma Rajkumar, she says, "I'm a big fan of Dr Rajkumar. I've read so much about him and Parvathamma. Their journey shows us that if they could rise, we can too. I follow them. Life is not just about earning money—thinking that 'money can do anything' is a misconception."

A new beginning

"My son often tells me to relax and enjoy farming, but I've always wanted to contribute to cinema—especially for newcomers. I don't know if Yash will ever do smaller films, but that was my intention. This is just the beginning—there's much more to come."

She continues, "I'm entering the industry as driver Arun Kumar's wife, not as Yash's mother. The production house, PA, stands for Pushpa Arun Kumar. I observe and respect everyone's work, including my son's. His dedication and patience are inspiring. Even though we don't interfere in each other's professional paths, we have faith in one another. He's doing a big-budget film, and I haven't even visited the set. In my view, no one will watch our film just because I'm Yash's mother—they'll come only if the content is good, and that's what should be appreciated."

With her children settled, Pushpa felt it was the right time to begin. "Parvathamma Rajkumar gave life to many artistes. If I can do even a little, I'll be happy. Let's use this platform to give new talents a chance. Even Yash rose because someone gave him an opportunity."

Reflecting on the film's development, she adds, "Initially, the director proposed a big-budget story. But I wanted something with a message—and he had another story that matched my vision. I've been involved in every detail, and the team has handled it with care. Just like there is critique at home for Yash's work, I'm sure he'll be our biggest critic too. I don't know how much appreciation I'll get from Yash for my first project, but what matters most is the audience. He has gone out of his way for them, and that's what our goal should be."

Pushpa also shares her love for cinema beyond the commercial glitter. "I'm a fan of family stories. I loved watching films starring Vishnuvardhan, Anant Nag, and Ramesh Aravind. I never leaned toward mass films, but today's trends demand that we adapt. Ultimately, it should be an entertainer."

The story behind 'Kothalavadi'

Writer-director Sriraj, known for his earlier collaborations with filmmaker Ravi Srivatsa, brings a new dimension to actor Pruthvi Ambaar in the upcoming film Kothalavadi. Though often associated with romantic roles, Pruthvi takes on a more rugged, action-driven avatar in this commercial entertainer.

"Kothalavadi is named after a real place located between Chamarajanagar and Gundlupete," shares Sriraj. "The film tells the story of that region, exploring how innocence is often exploited within our communities. It blends action, drama, and politics with a strong social message. Pruthvi plays the role of a common man who rises against the odds."

The film also marks the debut of Sagar as a stunt choreographer. Editing is by Ramishetty Pavan, and Karthik S, known for his work on Hoysala, joins the team as a key collaborator. The music is composed by Vikash Vasishta, with the background score by Abhinandan Kashyap. Dialogues are penned by Raghu Niduvalli.

Director Sriraj also expressed his appreciation for Pushpa Arunkumar, the producer behind Kothalavadi, under the banner PA Productions. "It's very encouraging to have a producer like Pushpa Arunkumar who believes in giving opportunities to newcomers," said Sriraj. "Today, most people look for experience, but she identified fresh talent and trusted us with the responsibility."

He further added, "In the current scenario, where good producers are becoming rare in the Kannada industry, Pushpa ma'am stood out by supporting us without compromising on quality. There's often a debate about whether Kannada films can match the standards set by movies like KGF or Kantara—but I believe Kothalavadi has the potential to change that perception."

Rajavardan, Chakravarthy Chandrachud team up for a mass entertainer

Rajavardan

Chakravarthy Chandrachud

CE FEATURES

RAJAVARDAN is set to collaborate with director Chakravarthy Chandrachud for an upcoming mass action entertainer. Backed by a major production house, the film is scheduled to go on floors in May. An official announcement is expected soon, with a grand launch event planned. Adding to the excitement, two popular stars are expected to grace the occasion, making it a high-profile kickoff.

Despite facing early setbacks in his career, Rajavardan has remained focused and determined. This film is being touted as his major comeback vehicle—one that could finally establish him as true 'hero material'.

Writer and director Chakravarthy Chandrachud, who gained popularity as a Bigg Boss contestant, has been crafting a complete mass entertainer that will blend commercial appeal with powerful, character-driven drama. The script has been tailored specifically for Rajavardan, aiming to highlight his strengths and screen presence. Rooted in local culture and brimming with high-energy sequences, the film is expected to be a desi action-packed spectacle. More details are expected to be revealed closer to the project going on floors.

BRAD PITT TO TEAM UP WITH EDWARD BERGER

CE FEATURES

CONCLAVE-fame Edward Berger's next film is all set to star Brad Pitt. The film is said to be an adaptation of Tim Winton's novel The Riders. The story follows Fred Scully, who ends up in Ireland with his wife, Jennifer, and his daughter, Billie. Scully spends a while renovating a dilapidated farmhouse he bought while Jennifer goes to Australia to liquidate their assets, with Billie accompanying her. Scully is shattered to discover that only his daughter got back from Australia, and his wife is nowhere to be found. Brad Pitt is set to star as Scully in the film.

Ridley Scott is set to produce the film along with Michael Pruss under the Scott Free banner. David Kajganich and Berger are producing under the Nine Hours banner. Pitt, Dede Gardner and Jeremy Kleiner are producing the film for Plan B Entertainment. A24 is set to finance the film and handle international distribution. The upcoming film is set to start production in 2026.

Bangalore Kumar, Nani and Srinidhi Shetty

You will see a different side of me in HIT 3: Nani

CE FEATURES

THERE is a buzz around HIT: The Third Case, the upcoming instalment in the hit crime-thriller franchise, starring Nani in the lead role. Directed by Sailesh Kolanu, the film is set to release on May 1. Its stars, Nani and Srinidhi Shetty, are sparing no effort in promoting it. The duo recently visited Bengaluru to give fans a sneak peek into this high-octane action thriller.

The third film in the HIT series promises to deliver the suspense and thrills fans have come to love. Nani reprises his role as IPS officer Arjun Sarkar after playing it as a cameo in the second film in the franchise. For Srinidhi Shetty, the film marks her return to the big screen after over three years, following her iconic roles in the KGF series and Cobra. With the success of the first two HIT films, excitement for HIT 3 is high. In an interaction with the media, Nani expressed confidence in the film's success. "I've watched HIT 3, and I'm proud of how it turned out. This film is special, and I'm sure the audience will connect with it," he said. Known for his diverse roles, Nani is eager to present a fresh character. "I always choose roles that push me out of my comfort zone. In HIT 3, you'll see a different side of me, and I'm excited for the audience to experience it."

Srinidhi Shetty, playing Mrudula, also shared her excitement. "After three and a half years, HIT 3 feels like the perfect project to mark my return. Working with Nani was incredible, and the story is compelling. I'm confident the audience will enjoy it," she said.

Directed by Sailesh Kolanu, HIT 3 combines crime, action, and drama while delivering a social message on justice and resilience. Produced by Shanti Tipirneni, with music by Mickey J Meyer, the film is set for release in multiple languages: Telugu, Kannada, Hindi, and Tamil.
